A Place With A Purpose

The endless enthusiasm of youth,

Its matchless energy,

Sparks purpose into the structure,

Breaks its summer long slumber,

Some of this energy remains,

Giving the school a life,

A life which one can feel,

Lingering in a vacant hall,

Listening to the crowded gymnasium,

Watching the Victory Flag flap,

It is more than a mere building,

The setting for a mind meeting,

It is an experience.

Countless bits of memory, little experiences left behind by the multitudes using the gym, create a presence which leaves Jeff Cook in thought.

Ideas aren't bound by class walls, for one of the greatest areas of discussion and communication is in the hall where all students meet.

Jank,
To a great kid
guy with a great attitude. Keep up the winning tradition that has been started in baseball this spring at CHS. Good luck
next year as you lead

Students often are seen contemplating issues that aren't bound by school walls but which provide the topics often discussed in school.

People . . . students, teachers, advisors,

All find a place at CHS,

Exchanging ideas,

Planning for the future,

Meeting people . . . sharing memories,

Building a bridge of human compassion,

Demolishing barriers of ignorance,

Seeds of knowledge are planted here,

Some take root in fertile minds,

A seed buds, a leader is born,

None can escape the effect of these seeds,

They challenge, provoke, antagonize,

They change men and institutions,

People . . . dynamic, everchanging,

People are CHS.

Cooperation is taught in simple games.

Spring Fling competition breeds spirit unrivaled.

Mark,

To a really sweet guy. You've become one of the dearest guys to me this year. Keep up the good work on the baseball team.

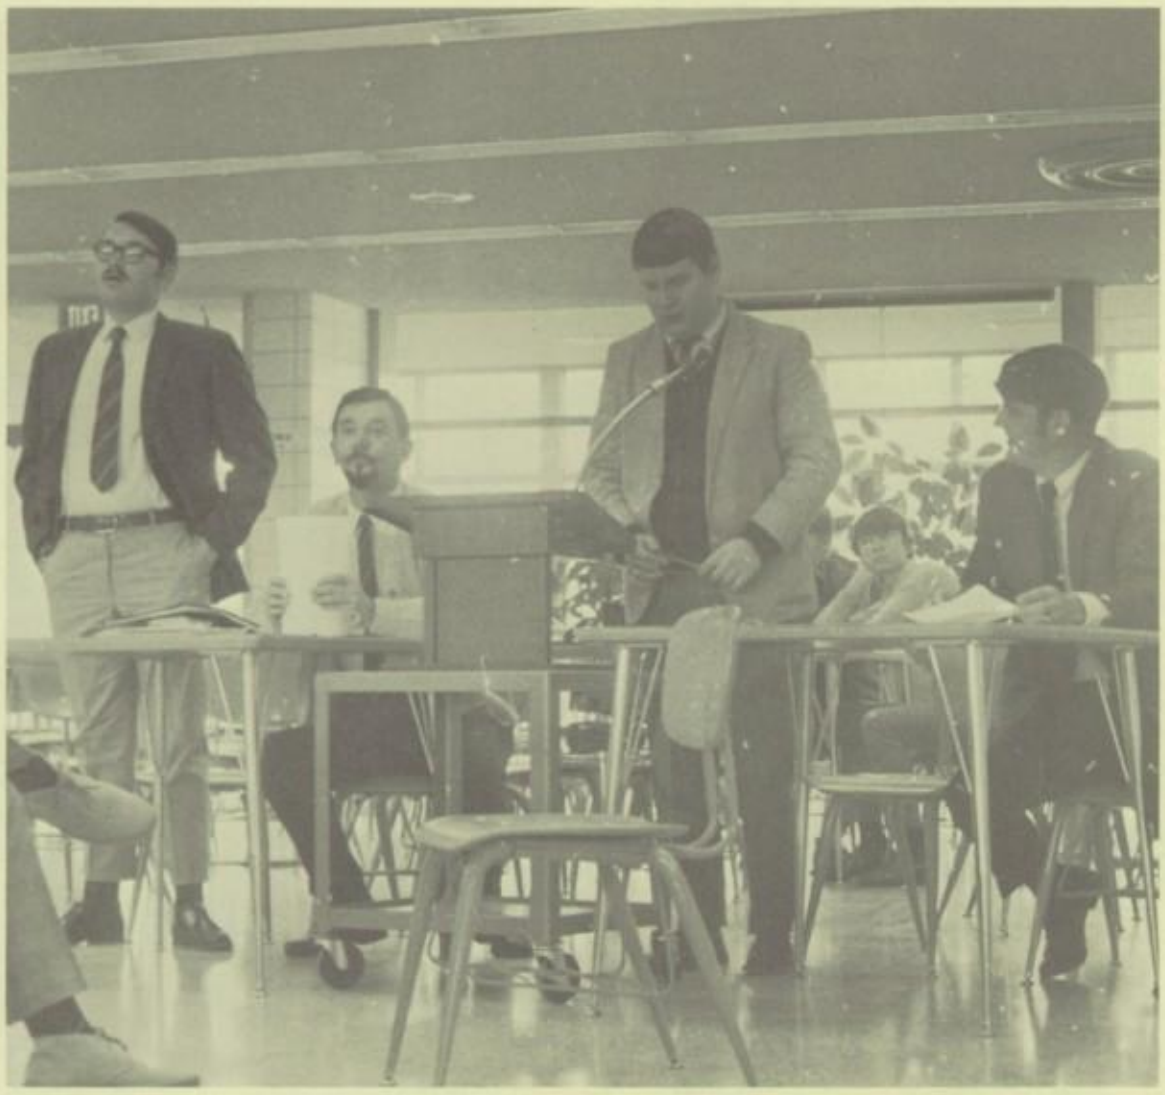
Understanding is imported by CHS exchange students.



Our generation seeks identity,

goals,

Qualities hard to find in the world,

The search begins at CHS,

People need memories, ideas,

They make CHS "A PLACE WITH A PURPOSE."

Student and teacher alike are given the chance to sound-off in Moratorium Day discussions. The resulting exchange was often informative.

Young and old meet, watching films, often controversial, sponsored by Senior English teachers. The films often lead to interesting discussions.

In soft contemplation, Beverly Smith, like many other CHS students, questions and challenges many things accepted by the older generation of today.

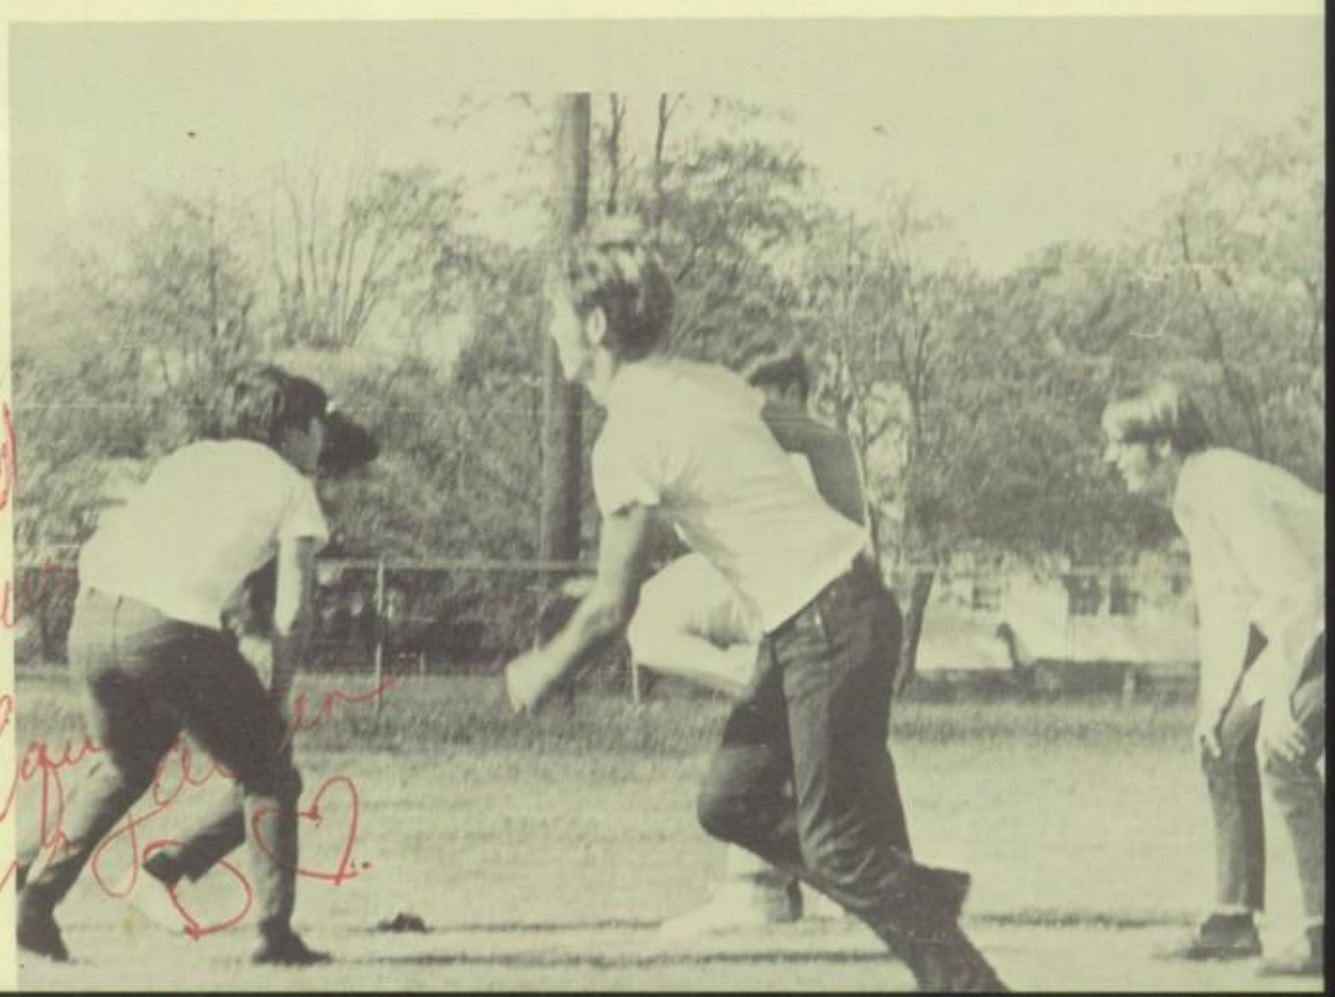
Tark.

I could have never made it in the ballpen without ya. You're one of the coolest guys I know. Hope to see ya next year.

DANE "RUFUS" BOLDEN

Backing Chrysler High School in an attempt to set a world record is Principal William Lehr.

Playing in three hour shifts, many CHS boys helped gain the world's record in touch football.



Frank,

I hear you let any of those balls get by you in warm up (source is Ed). Keep hitting them in football with those forarms. Good Luck

Jake Youngkans

Ideas arise and slowly develop,

A student works, but not alone,

To attain a goal,

To bring fame to himself and to his school,

Recognition comes in the form of a touch football game,

Not just an ordinary game, but a game that breaks the world record.

The satisfaction of achievement,

To be known, a trophy to be proud of,

A trophy that makes CHS,

"A PLACE WITH A PURPOSE."

Enthusiastic crowds spent much of their free time observing the activities on the field.

Accepting the well-deserved trophy, awarded by the city, are the leaders of CHS.

Frank,

You are probably one of the greatest catchers I have ever seen. Hope you see your next year behind the old plate. And maybe we'll be one and only Yanks. Keep the arm warm. peyton at second

A discovery of one's physical ability,
Testing stamina to its limit,
Working for a goal bigger than self,
All breed pride, pride in one's body,
A pride that no one can steal,
That no one can question,
That moves one to "Put out,"
Yet self pride alone does one no good,
For teams win, not individuals,
Surrounded by foes under the basket,
Charges by a massive lineman,
It takes more than one man,
It takes cooperation.

Shock, excitement, and fear are typified in the face of Cindy Clevenger as she watches New Castle fall behind in a hard fought match.

Support for the Trojans is often provided by the pom-pom girls such as Bennita Bassett. Many often are forgotten who work to sustain the team.

Hours of conditioning pay, rewarding some with the thrill of victory, but all with a new awareness of self. Discipline is important to the wrestler.

TANK! Really great guy. You've got a lot going for you. Good luck & keep working.

Muscles strain as Jerry Lamberson pushes himself to the fullest. That quality known as spirit reaches its peak on the floor.

Not unknown to the CHS athlete, the tastes of defeat always come bitterly, as Allen Feeley would report. Taking defeat in stride requires control.

Goals,

Numerous dreams and possible reality,

Each and every student pursues his own at times,

But sometimes must work together.

The desire of attaining that goal is imprinted upon each face.

With unsurmountable faith in himself in order to accomplish the job at hand, the CHS student makes the goal real, not only for himself, but also for his school.

Slaving together to achieve the goal of a victory are the senior boys of the class of 1970.

Through the Head Start program, children are helped by Teresa Adams and June Coffey.

Goals are often frustrated, but patience and work sometimes pull through a victory for the Trojans.

Putting his feelings into music as friends listen is Foreign Exchange Student Soren Sorenson.

Trying to become extraordinary,
In a world of constant change and revolution, to be different from everyone else, to stand alone when everyone else stands together,
CHS students attempt to find themselves through various forms of expression . . .
By way of music, drama, art, and just by being themselves, they fit into "A PLACE WITH A PURPOSE."

Displaying emotions by using their dramatic abilities are the cast of "See How They Run."

Demonstrating the art of "splatter painting" are art students Carolyn Bertram and Tom Caig.

Looking on as Queen Cindy receives her roses from Susan Lockhart are King Bo and Anne Williams, 1968 Queen.

A romantic atmosphere awaits the entering of guests into the world of L'Amour Est Bleu.

Royalty Reigns Over L'Amour Est Bleu

Introducing a new tradition to Prom, the Junior Class not only crowned a queen, Cindy Clevenger; but also a king, Bo Pheffer. The royal couple was chosen by their classmates to reign over Junior Prom, 1969.

Stepping through a trellis of interwoven blue, white and green flowers, the candidates and their dates along with over 500 juniors, seniors and guests glided into the captivating world of L'Amour Est Bleu.

Blue streamers were draped from the ceiling of the gym and caught at intervals on the walls to create a canopy, in the center of which hung large blue spheres illuminated by soft blue lights. Street scenes of Paris which outlined the walls, and couples, dancing to the music of Gene Gabbard and his orchestra, were enveloped within the enchanting blue haze.

At 11:00, guests' eyes were focused on the flower entwined swing to await the coronation. The royal couple was crowned by Rick Hoover, Junior Class President, and Anne Williams, 1968 Prom Queen.

Candidates for Prom Queen 1969 are Cindy Clevenger, Peggy Holloway, Elsa Millikan, Sue Pfeifer, and Donna Rush.

Final five candidates competing for the honor of King are Bo Pheffer, Tim Horan, Kurt English, Steve Strother, and Jack Stackhouse.

Bo and Cindy, reigning King and Queen, lead the coronation dance to the music of Gene Gabbard and his orchestra.

Mammy Yokum's Tonic Saves Dogpatch

Al Capp's world famous characters came alive as "Li'l Abner" was presented in May. The plot, a mixture of hill-billy nonsense and sharp, critical humor, opened on the community of Dogpatch, where word had just reached the citizens that they must evacuate their mountain homes. Dogpatch had been selected as the most unnecessary town in the country, and therefore the perfect site for nuclear tests. Mammy Yokum (Denise Waters) produced a secret formula of Yokumberry Tonic to save the town, but a sly and conniving general, along with a sultry siren named Apassionata and an evil eye tried to get the secret from Li'l Abner (Tom Detmer). A chase after the confiscated formula to Washington and a foiled plot ended the humorous musical.

Expressing her ideas on Sadie Hawkin's Day to Tom Detmer is Elsa Millikan.

Entire ensemble for "Li'l Abner" runs through one of their main production numbers.

Relating the story of Miranda (Pam Phares) is Prospero (Mike Burkhart), the exiled Duke of Milan.

The Tempest Examines Life In All Forms

Opening with a raging storm, Thespian Troupe 1597 presented William Shakesphere's "The Tempest." The play was a challenge from the beginning because of the difficult sets, unusual costumes, and the unique make-up. Delicate lighting and expressive music highlighted the lyrical quality of Shakespeare's last play.

"The Tempest" revolved around the tale of Prospero, an exiled duke on an isle in the Mediterranean. Seeking revenge, he shipwrecked the men who were responsible for his exile. Prospero's supremacy emerged with his ability to reason and to forgive his many enemies and to live in the world of men regardless of their faults.

Waiting to go on stage are spirits Cally Steussy, Denise Waters, and Joanie Babcock.

Summoning the charms of Sycorax is the sub-human monster Caliban (Tom Detmer).

Students Achieve Honors In Different Areas

Several students brought honor to themselves and to the school this year as they achieved recognition in different fields of study and extra-curricular areas.

Youth Appreciation Week, held in November and sponsored by the Optimist International, recognized and honored sixteen youth for their accomplishments in study areas, 4-H, Boy Scouts, and church activities.

Four juniors were selected to participate in the World Affairs Institute, sponsored by the Rotary Club and held in Cincinnati in March. They joined with other Midwest students in discussing Japan.

Honorable mention was received by four students in the Central Indiana Scholastic Art Exhibit for their painting, ink drawing, sculpture, and wood cut.

Participants in the twenty-fourth annual World Affairs Institute are Jerry Lamberson, Mary Ann Ozeretny, Pat Suter, and Mike Kalk.

Optimist honorees chosen in various areas are (FRONT ROW) P. Woods, P. Holloway, and D. Michael. (SECOND ROW) K. Carter, T. Holsapple, C. Eaton, and J. McKee. (BACK ROW) P. Myers, A. Feeley, J. Lamberson, J. Keller, and S. Gray.

Chosen to exhibit their outstanding art works in the L.S. Ayres auditorium are C. Bertram, T. Boyd, D. Boyd, and H. Cole.

Hsiu Zu Is Radiant Queen Of Aquarius

An abstract scene with a dawning sun and the zodiac symbol of Aquarius helped to make possible "The Age of Aquarius," theme of the annual Heart's Hop held in February. The students and their guests entered into this remote world through a hallway decorated by the signs of the zodiac. Featured was the rock group, December's Children.

Climaxing the evening was the coronation of an elated senior Hsiu Zu Ho as queen by Chuck Shallenberg, Student Council president. Attendants of the queen were Karen Clift and Donna Rush, seniors; Beverly Smith, Sally Stackhouse, and Jenny York, juniors; and Lana Knotts, Lisa Paul, and Judy Pheifer, sophomores.

Smiling radiantly is Hsiu Zu Ho as she is crowned Heart's Hop queen by Chuck Shallenberg.

Heart's Hop queen candidates are L. Knotts, L. Paul, J. Pheifer, S. Stackhouse, H. Ho, K. Clift, D. Rush, B. Smith, and J. York.

Organizations

When the high school years are gone,

We remember clubs, associations.

Clubs teaching by experience,

Clubs for those who are honored.

Clubs for understanding.

Publications and speech clubs,

Aiming for communication.

Clubs which pursue the fine arts,

Musical clubs,

Perfecting harmony.

Clubs bring honors,

State, local, national.

To individuals, to the school,

They teach, prepare,

Leaving in their wake,

A trail of memories.

These memories make CHS the PLACE

They also give it a PURPOSE.

Council Starts Whoopee As Fall Project

As the governing body of all CHS'ers, the Student Council took on several projects. The Walter P. Whoopee was originated as a replacement for the annual Watermelon Feed. It was used to raise funds for various clubs, each of which had a booth in the fieldhouse. The booths offered activities such as fortune-telling, a raffle, and a free throw test.

Several members of the Student Council received further training in high school government. Chuck Shallenberg attended a summer workshop at Indiana University. The main purpose of this program was to allow student leaders to exchange views and also gain experience in student government. The Council sent delegates to a State Convention in October at Frankfort High School. Those present attended several sessions during the day, all of which dealt with the role of the Council in high school government.

Officers for the club this year were Chuck Shallenberg, president; Leslie Sherman, vice-president; Hsiu Zu Ho, secretary; and Peggy Brooks, treasurer. Sponsoring the organization were Mrs. Mary Sinnock and Mr. Jerry Koger.

During the Walter P. Whoopee, Mary Ann Ozeretny relates her fortune to Terrie Judkins.

Student Council Forms Several Committees

Dealing with school morale, improvement and publicity, Student Council formed several significant committees.

The Important Miscellaneous Projects Committee, headed by Chairmen Peggy Brooks and Missy Chambers, distributed Trojan car window stickers and collected for UNICEF. Members kept the bulletin boards up to date and decorated them during the Christmas Holidays.

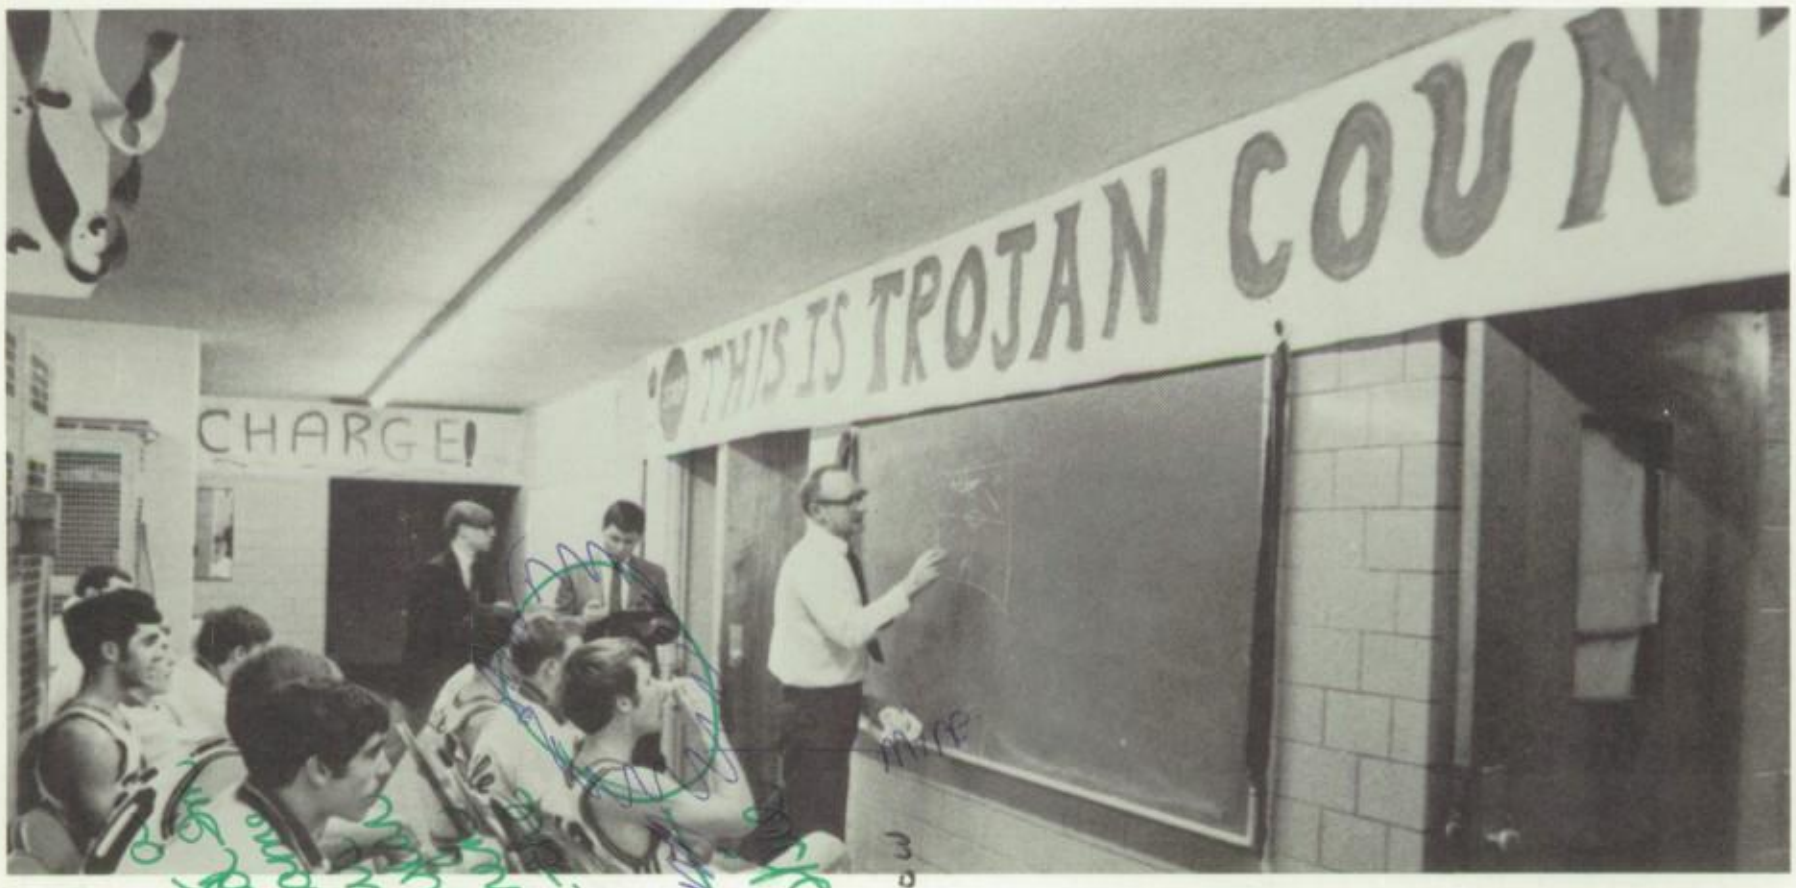
To better the relationship between students and the faculty, Chairmen Diana Upchurch and Michele Sieffert played hostess to faculty members at a luncheon held during the semester break.

Members of the Morale Committee sponsored pep sessions and made signs throughout the sports seasons to back the mighty Trojans. Hsiu Zu Ho and Kathy Carter served as committee chairmen.

Chairmen Peggy Holloway and Joannie Babcock directed the spring "Clean Up" campaign of the School Improvement Committee. They also presented CHS with an American flag that had been flown over the State Capitol in Indianapolis.

The Publicity Committee informed students of up-coming events through local and school newspapers and radios.

Changing the letters on the lawn bulletin board are Mike Lee and Peggy Brooks.



Going all out during Sectional, Morale Committee hung signs in the boy's dressing room.

Holding the plaques they were awarded for their outstanding achievements in state competition are OEA members M. Clark, B. Lively, S. Davis.

State Winners Charter Plane For Texas

Participating in the OEA State Convention, Betty Lively placed first in Business Record Management, Sheila Davis won third place in the Advanced Typing Contest, and Margaret Clark was third in Extemp Speech. As a result of their wins in state competition, these three OEA students entered the national contests in Ft. Worth, Texas. Accompanied by several other members and their sponsor, Mr. Cecil Powell, they were flown to Ft. Worth with other Indiana members in a chartered plane.

Throughout the mornings of each school week, OEA students attended classes at CHS, leaving after lunch for work. Members had been placed in the offices of local businesses under the supervision of Mr. Cecil Powell, coordinator, and company employees.

OEA officers for the 1969-1970 school year were Lorene Catron, president; Sally Shaffer, vice-president; Sheila Davis, secretary; and Benita Shostle, reporter.

OEA members for the 1969-1970 school year are (FRONT ROW) Vicki Bertram, Sheila Davis, Benita Shostle, and Lorene Catron. (SECOND ROW) Mr. Powell, sponsor; Norma Brewster, Suzy Warren, and Edna Hole. Members of FBLA Perform Community Services

Giving of their time unselfishly, members of FBLA held a Valentine's Day party for patients at the State Hospital. During the Christmas holidays, they visited several local nursing homes to sing well known carols.

A field trip to Marsh's warehouse in Yorktown was a highlight of the fall. Members were given a tour of the gigantic building which houses foodstuffs for all Marsh Super Markets in this part of Indiana. In March, members journeyed to Dayton, Ohio, and toured the office complex at National Cash Register.

Members attended the April State Convention and participated in the state spelling contest.

FBLA's major fund raising project was the selling of refreshments at the concession stand during home football games. Earnings were used to buy new equipment for the school business department.

The club scrapbook prepared by Arlene Lee, historian, was entered in the state contest.

The Future Business Leaders of America are (FRONT ROW) Linda Young, Retha Kendall, Bethany Perdew, Brenda Tabor, Arlene Lee. (SECOND ROW) Kathy Dickey, Carol Goar, June Coffey, Pam Matherson, Mrs. Golliher, sponsor. (THIRD ROW) Mrs. Donovan, sponsor; Theresa Romine, Pam Young, Kathy Vitatoe, Mrs. Wagner, sponsor. (BACK ROW) Mike Axel, John Porter, Debra Allen, Laura Platts, Carol Massengale, and Dale Madison. Not pictured are Pat Stonecipher and Jack Lamberson.

Completing a sale in the School Book Store are DECA members Nancy Lee and Ruth Dickerson.

Four Reach State Competition From DECA

Bringing honor to Chrysler, six Junior and Senior members of DECA received outstanding ratings at their Regional in Muncie. Ruth Dickerson was nominated for State vice-president, and four members became eligible for State. They were Active Division—Barbara Downs in Window Display, Skip Whary, Sales Demonstration; Mike Wolfe, Student of the Year; Associate Division—Dale Madison, Public Speaking.

Meeting in the morning under their new sponsor, Mr. Richard Lawson, the two groups operated the school bookstore and developed their advertising skill by displaying various products from DECA employers. A candy sale, trip to Chicago and Employer banquet were highlights.

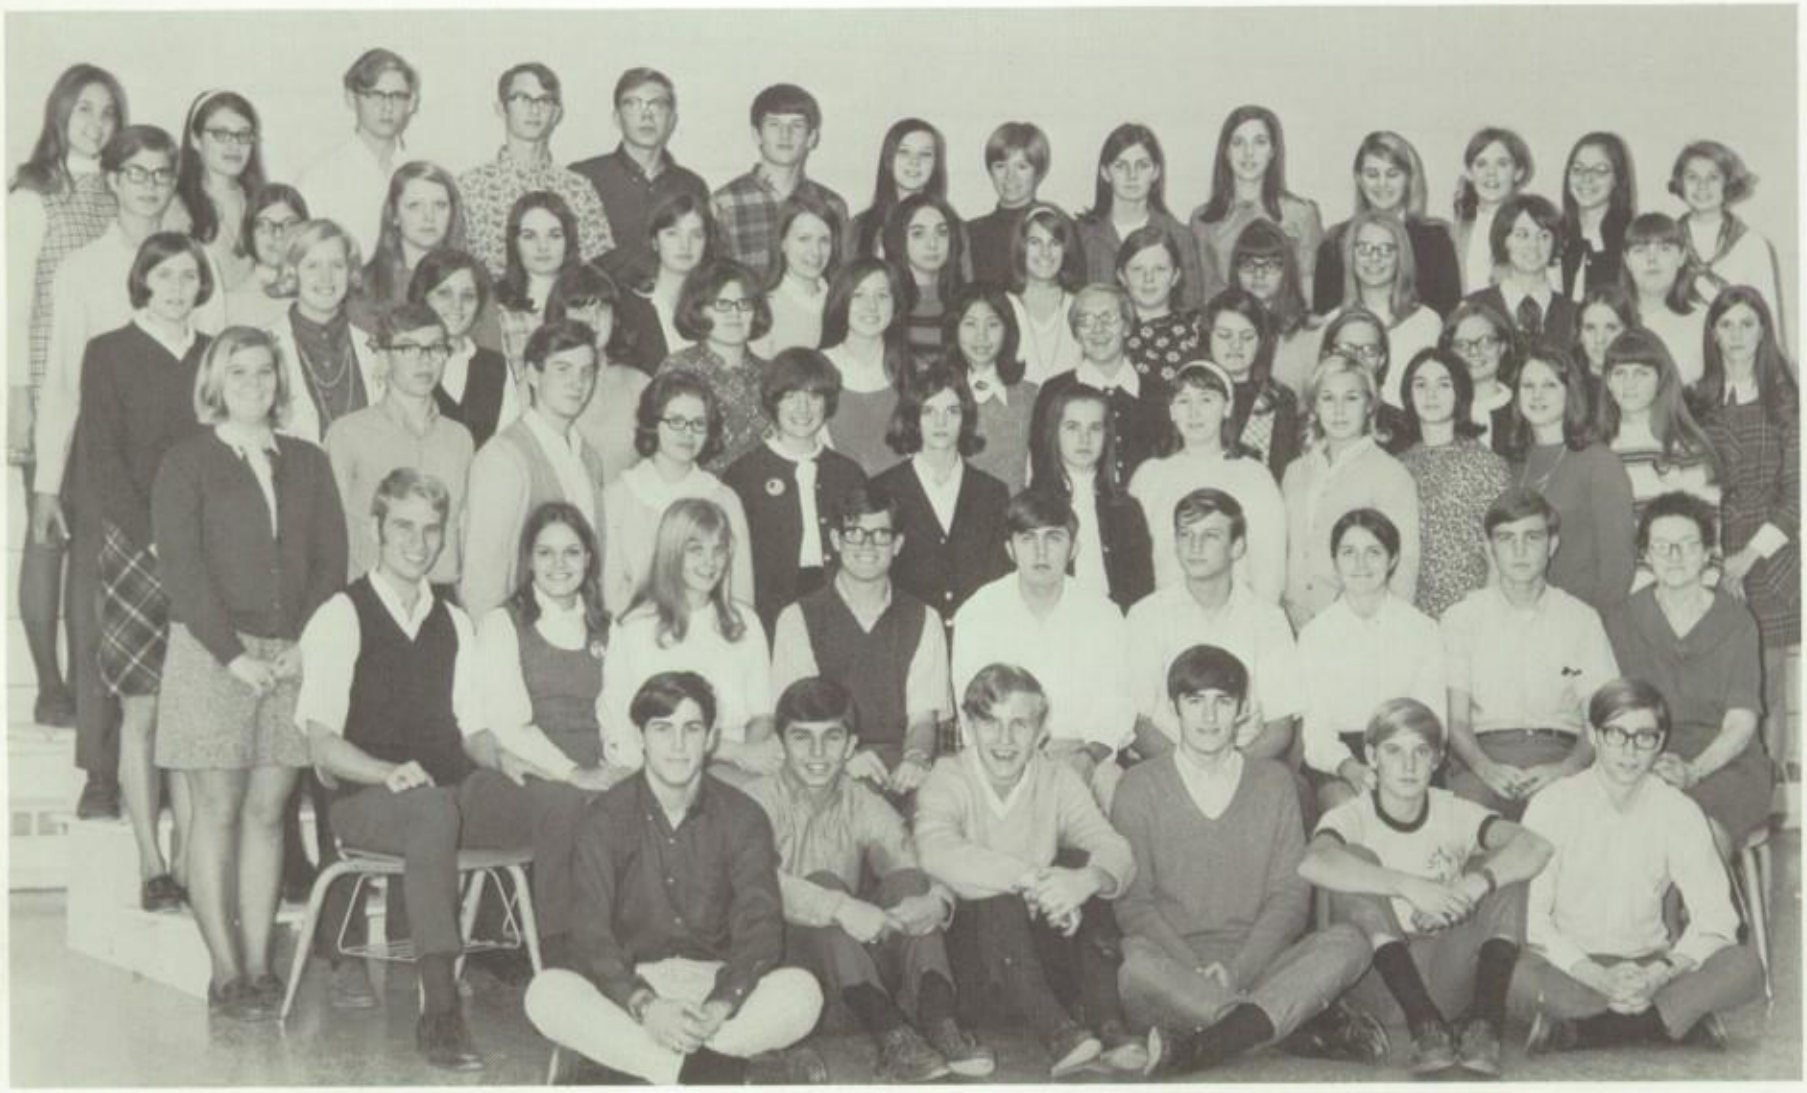
Officers in DECA for the year were John Dickerson, president; Kathie Akers, vice-president; Judy Gwinn, secretary; and Bill Hughes, treasurer.

Members of Junior DECA are (FRONT ROW) D. Harmon, P. McLaughlin, and J. Olden. (SECOND ROW) P. Denney, D. Lowe, P. Dobbs, and Mr. Lawson. (THIRD ROW) D. McDaniels, and V. Boling. (BACK ROW) R. Shell, R. Dickerson, K. Lawson, and L. Vincent.

Gaining experience in the business world, Ronnie Burke checks his receipts.

Selling foreign foods at the FORSCO "Whoopee" booth are Joe McDonald and Susan Lockhart.

Preparing for a game of touch football at their fall picnic, FORSCO members plan tactics.



Members are (FRONT ROW) McDonald, DeHart, Harter, Gann, Carithers, Morris. FORSCO Entertains Four Exchange Students

Offering members a chance to become acquainted with the foreign exchange students, FORSCO sponsored an autumn picnic. Guests of honor were Tony Ganly from Australia, Barbara Hesse from Germany, and Drag Hedl from Yugoslavia. Soren Sorenson, a native of Denmark, moved to New Castle in November.

FORSCO provides school expenses, such as book rental, for the foreign students. Money raising projects included Tag Day, the AFS Christmas Card Sale and the tempting foreign food sale.

Foreign Student Day was held in April. Exchange students from Purdue, Indiana, and Ball State Universities and from high schools all over Indiana came to CHS.

Two juniors, Betsy John and Sue Baker, were chosen to go abroad this summer, Sue to Argentina and Betsy to Japan.

Officers were Peggy Holloway, president; Bill Aitchison, vice-president; Nancy Leveridge, secretary; Mike Kalk, treasurer.

Folk songs sung by Terri Bowers and Soren Sorenson are fascinating to Westwood first graders.

Germany and Sweden were the homes of Donna Rush and Carol D'Amico during their Summer Abroad.

Displaying their T-shirts, exchange students Tony Ganly and Drag Hedl are ready for the race.

FHA Girls Contribute To Head Start

Contributing to the Head Start Program, the FHA members served as big sisters to 17 underprivileged children. The members made each child an outfit of clothes from the material provided to them by Huntington Industries and from other sources. This project was submitted to Teen Times, a magazine published by the national FHA.

The Future Homemakers of America devoted several meetings to "Decisions That Count." Educational trips to Indianapolis and Cincinnati were enjoyed by members.

Officers were June Coffey, president; Debbie Holwager, vice-president; Sarah Cook, secretary; Sandy Snodgress, treasurer; Teresa Adams, reporter; and Leanna Neal, historian. Sponsors were Miss Frances Eilar, Mrs. Mildred Garner, and Miss Muzetta Guymon.

Playing with these small children, June Coffey, FHA president, contributes to the local Head Start Program as part of a club project.

Winner of the Betty Crocker Homemaker award, Valerie Wilkinson receives her pin from Miss Eilar at the banquet held in May.

VICA 'C' Members Honor Employers

The introduction of red blazers with the VICA insignia on them was a first for some of the members of VICA"C" or VIP this year. Fifteen boys composed this club during its second year of existence. These members worked in local industries during the afternoons in the areas of drafting, mechanics, electricity-electronics, and metals. As a means of raising money, the club assisted DECA and OEA in their candy sale. In May, the members planned the Employer-Employee Banquet. The purpose of this banquet was to thank the employers of the community for providing "on-the-job" training.

Chosen to lead VICA"C" this year were Mike Penticuff, president; Dave Hinsey, vice-president; John Copeland, secretary; and Donald Purvis, treasurer. The advisor was Mrs. Beverly Hankenhoff.

VICA "C" members discuss plans for the Employer-Employee Banquet with President Mike Penticuff.

VICA 'D', Electronics Build Game, Rocket

VICA"D" members made and sold three dimensional Tic-Tac-Toe games at Christmas time. Tours of several industries provided information on job opportunities to the members.

Officers were Bill Thomas, president; Greg Davis, vice-president; Carolyn Eaton, secretary; Jerry Bach, treasurer; Paul Lanzer, reporter; and Jerry Grey, parliamentarian. Mr. Bernhardt Beguhn and Mr. Murl Carnes served as the club sponsors.

Electronics Club members used basketball concessions to finance a trip to the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry. Members also built and launched rockets.

Officers were Dan Dinkins, president; Bill Murray, vice-president; Steve Morris, secretary; and Pete Swinford, treasurer. Mr. Robert Johnson was the club sponsor.

Members are (FRONT ROW) Murray, Dinkins, Swinford, Mr. Johnson, and Morris. (BACK ROW) Laurie, Francis, Williamson, Yergin, and Benoit.

Electronics Club members Ron Francis, Jeff Evans, and Dan Dinkins sell concessions at basketball games as a means of raising money.

VICA"D" officers G. David, J. Bach, J. Grey, P. Lanzer, C. Eaton, and B. Thomas are shown with the Tic-Tac-To game they made and sold this year.

FCA, Art Club New To Chrysler Activities

Beginning its first year at Chrysler as an organization was the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. The group was small, for only a few boys were chosen to belong to FCA. Those selected must belong to a church and be selected by one of the five coaches on the basis of athletic ability. Officers were Skip Kaucher, Mike Lee, and Brent Popplewell with Faculty Sponsor Mr. Richard Hostetler.

Sixty members strong, Art Club's main purpose was to help broaden the scope of art for interested students. This was accomplished with field trips to such places as Bethyl Pike, to see artists create their living and a visit to Chicago, to view a Rembrandt showing. Money was raised for scholarships by holding an art fair. Sponsors were Miss Beth Burgan and Mr. William Zeiglar.

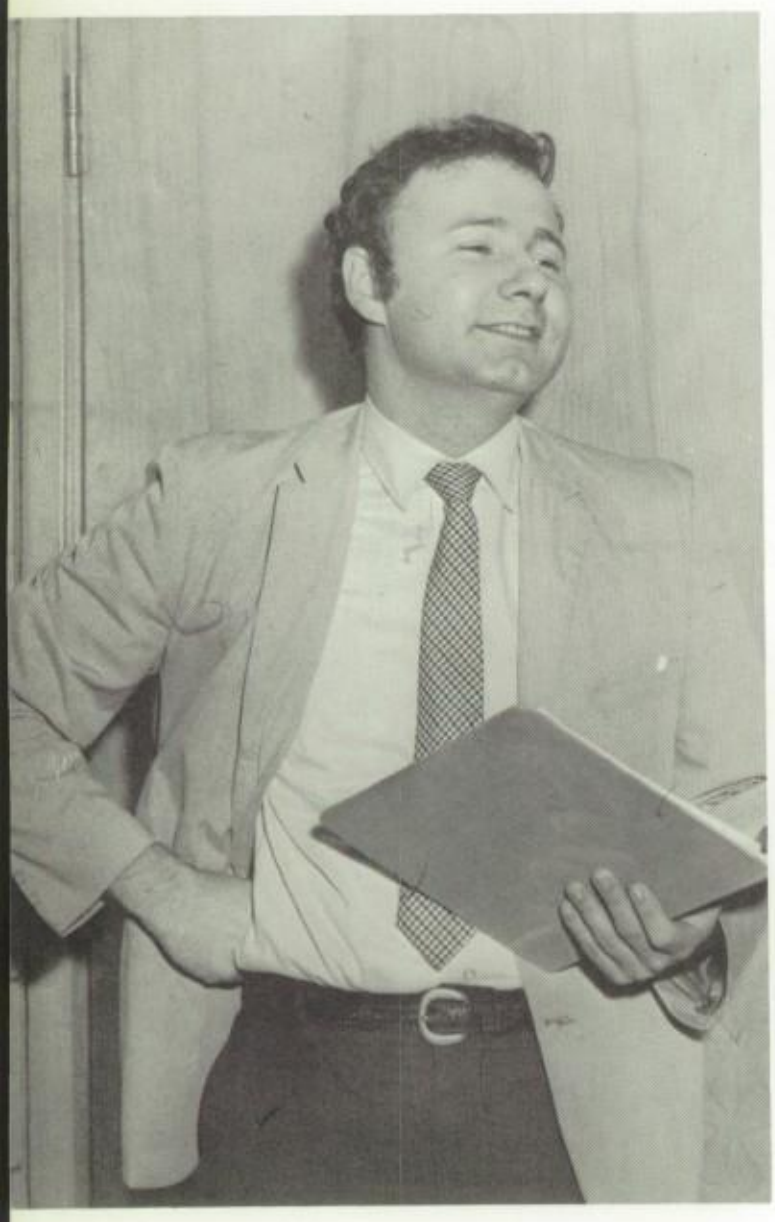
Workshop Productions Help Gain Experience

Another outstanding season for Thespians opened with the presentation of "See How They Run." This three act farce by Philip Keane included continuous entrances and exits, false identities and a Communist spy. In addition to the fall play the diversified Thespian Troupe presented "The Magic Apple."

Thespians' Workshop Theatre featured several one act plays. These plays ranging from comedy, "When Shakespear's Ladies Meet" to drama, "The Glass Menagerie" to the absurd, "The Sandbox", were produced by student directors under the charge of Mr. Richard Willis. Serving as a type of B-team theatre, Workshop productions enabled young actors to gain needed experience.

Thespian officers for the 1969-1970 school year were Tom Detmer, president; Phil Barr, vice-president; Susan Smith, secretary; and Connie Hayes, treasurer.

Relating their experiences with love are Shakespeare's most famous lady lovers.



Helping a young Junior High School student with make-up is Thespian crew member Joanie Babcock.

Before reviewing try-outs for "The Magic Apple" Mr. Willis strikes a humorous pose.

Children watch in fascination as the nose of the evil princess begins to grow.

Confused by Diana Upchurch's admission of love and Denise Williams' keen tongue, Tom Detmer's face shows mixed emotions in the fall play.

Math and Bible Clubs Increase Activities

Math Club members evaluated topics not covered in the math curriculum with special programs presented on such topics as logic.

Leading the Club were Robin Wood, president; David Risley, vice-president; Nancy Apple, secretary; John Risley, treasurer; and sponsor, Mr. Wayne Akey.

Bible Club traditionally held its cookie sales and this year sponsored a food booth at the Walter P. Whoopee. This money was used to buy club materials and a book for the school library.

As president, Becky Ragan gave the invocation at Senior Vespers and Recognitions Day. Other officers were Karen Davis, vice-president; Geraldine Shelton, secretary; Angalee McClain, treasurer, and Mr. Hobart Risley, club sponsor.

Science, Chess Clubs Motivate Deep Thought

A field trip to the Ball State Planetarium was a Science Club highlight this year along with several other field trips. The club sponsored a cookie sale to raise money for various activities.

Officers were Carol Vawrinek, president; Chris Nicholson, vice-president; Wanda Williams, secretary; and Bill Trainor, treasurer. Mr. William Wilt was sponsor.

Setting a new tradition this year, there was only one office, that of president. To be eligible for this honor, one had to defeat the reigning champion. The presidency was determined by matches played every Wednesday. The sponsor was Mr. Russell Byer.

Christmas Spirit Is Shared By Honor Society

Contributing to the service of the school and community, National Honor Society members completed the Honor Roll for each grading period and held their annual Goodwill clothing drive. Members shared their spirit and cheer by placing a Christmas tree in the East Lobby, sending cards to former students in the Armed Forces overseas, and collecting toys for needy children during the holiday season. Honor Society stationery also was sold.

Officers for the first semester were Bill Aitchison, president; James Frankenfield, vice-president; Kristi Link, secretary; and Margaret Stairs, treasurer. Second semester officers were Jim Hostetler, president; Tina Holsapple, vice-president; Becky Ragan, secretary; and Mike Crider, trea- and sponsor, Miss Catherine Ratcliffe.

Newly elected members were inducted at the annual banquet in April.

Tribune Gets New Style, Quality Look

Cutting down the number of pages as well as employing new techniques in being more clear and concise, Trojan Tribune made its appearance in the style of a college magazine. Due to the problems encountered last year, the 1970 Trojan Tribune was presented on different textured paper to help prevent bleeding, new styles of printing the paper were employed, and 32 pages instead of 40 were used.

A new addition to the magazine was Faculty Corner, where teachers for the first time could express their views in the same form as students. Together, the contributors showed the writings and artwork of their innermost selves on such problems as poverty, loneliness, war, and man's inhumanity to man.

Sponsors for Trojan Tribune were Mrs. Beverly Carboneau and Miss Beth Burgan. Working with the staff members were the co-editors Debby Penticuff and Pam Phares.

National Forensic League Receives Top Honor

An important part of National Forensic League is the keeping of the point books. Here NFL president Pete Woods and Secretary Jo McKee, see if Jim Crowe is eligible for a higher degree.

Achieving honor for being the most outstanding chapter of its district for the 1968-69 season was Chrysler's National Forensic League. The award was presented to the chapter in April by Mr. Bruno Jacobs, one of the originators of NFL. This was the second time that Chrysler has earned this honor based on points accumulated by solo and debate members. Two of these members earned the Double Ruby this year. They were Donna Mastin and Michael Crider.

Ranking seventh in the state, Chrysler's Debate Team ended the season with 61 wins and 30 losses.

Leading the way for the solo and debate teams were the officers for the National Forensic League. The four were Pete Woods, president; Andy Niflis, vice-president; Jo McKee, secretary, and Donna Mastin, treasurer. Coaches for NFL were Miss Juanita Jane Rucker and Mr. Dick Willis, solo; and Mr. Richard Hostetler, debate.

Senior Jim Hostetler readies himself for cross-examination after presenting his case during a recent practice debate meet.

Completing the final paste up before sending the Phoenix to the Richmond Graphic, are the co-editors Jo McKee and Mike Crider.

Making sure the Phoenix stays solvent, Kristi Link, Business manager, looks over her books to see what bills must be paid.

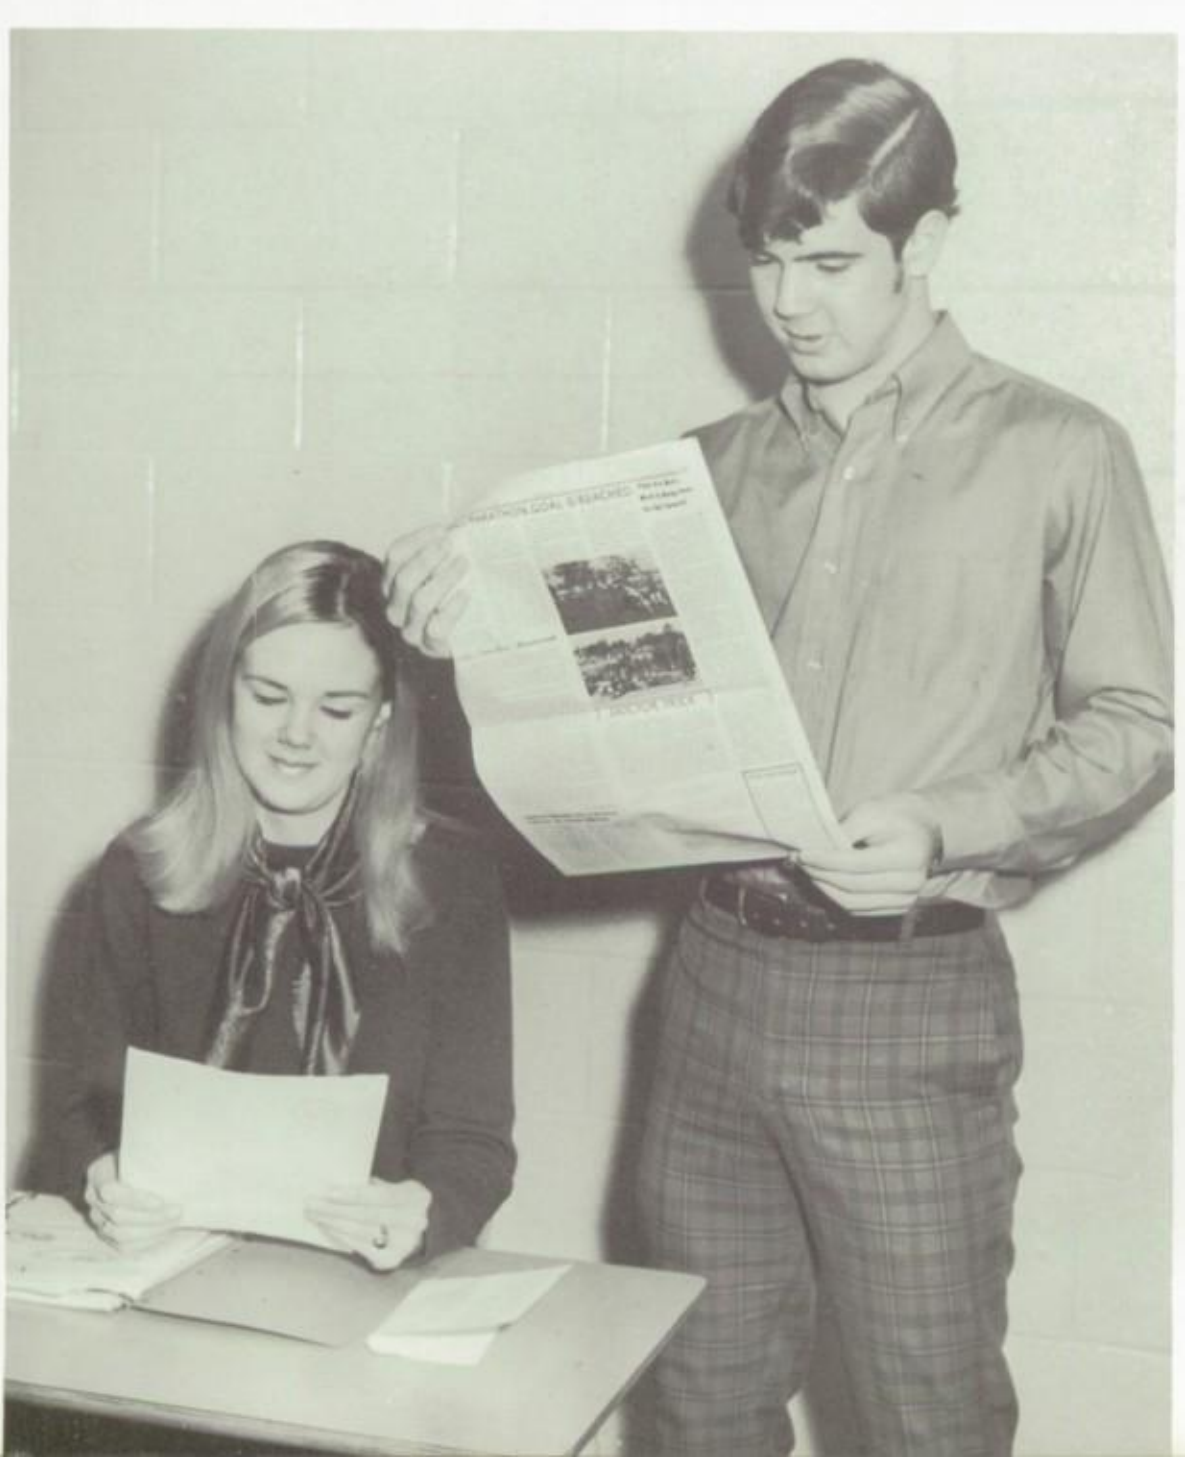
Phoenix Honors Seniors With Special Issue

Wrapping up the year and honoring the graduating class of 1970, the Phoenix published a special 12 page edition containing many items about Seniors.

Published biweekly, the Phoenix is the culmination of the efforts of 24 Junior and Senior staff members. Due to the length of the Christmas, Sectional, and Senior issues, the staff was forced to work doggedly to meet their publications deadlines.

Staff editors were Mike Crider and Jo McKee; with Kristi Link, business manager; Elsa Millikan, news editor; Terri Bowers and Debby Penticuff, feature editors; Chuck Shallenberg and Steve Pfenninger, sports editors; Cinda Shinn and Carolyn Bertram, advertising and circulation; Rick Hoover, copy-editor and columnist; Pete Woods, layout editor; and Keith Wimmer, photographer. The advisor was Miss Frances Halberstadt.

Using an earlier edition of the Phoenix as reference, Elsa Millikan positions her articles before gluing, as Pete Woods checks varityping.



Feature editor Terri Bowers checks over Rick Hoover's latest column "Doctor Trick," as Rick looks at a previous edition.

Creating eye-catching ads, ads editor Cinda Shinn works while Steve Pfenninger and Chuck Shallenberg check their layout sketch.

Rosennial Designs New, Distinctive Effects

Peering deep into the inner thoughts of Vince Cronk, is Rosennial seeress, Debbie Garner.

The 1970 Rosennial visualized its theme "A Place With A Purpose" with such special features as a new cloth bound cover with silhouettes and green-black type with photographs on ivory colortext paper in the opening section of the book. Silhouettes on the division page of each section added still more originality.

Editor-in-Chief Terrie Judkins, Copy Editor Fred Cheesman, and Lay-out Editor Trudi Boyd returned with new techniques and ideas from the two-week Ball State Yearbook Workshop last summer. After long hours of hard effort and burning the midnight oil before an approaching deadline, the staff applied the ideas with appropriate photographs and copy. The staff hoped to continue the standard of last year with an All-American.

Near the end of the first semester, juniors applied for the 1971 Rosennial Staff and eight were selected to compete for next year's top positions. The editors and the business manager for the '71 Rosennial were selected from the following: Joanie Babcock, Jim Carithers, Cindy Helms, Betsy John, Mike Lee, Mary Ann Ozeretny, Leslie Sherman, and Paul Ray Walker. The staff advisor was Miss Frances Halberstadt.

Hard at work, four editors of Rosennial are busy finishing their sections for a deadline.

Cheerblock Creates Skits At Half-Time

Keeping the school spirit alive, Girls' Cheerblock cheered the basketball teams on to victory. Led by their president, senior Margaret Stairs, the spirited group chanted various songs and yells during home games. Along with the band and the Pom-Pom girls, the Cheerblock created unique hand claps to perform at the half-time shows. At this time, skits or songs that had been written by board members also were performed. The Girls' Cheerblock celebrated the holidays of Christmas and Valentine's Day with special skits. At Christmas, the Block formed a Christmas tree, and for Valentine's Day a heart was formed.

Other officers were Jill Overman, vice-president; Susan Cadwallader, secretary-treasurer; and class representatives. Sponsoring the group were Miss Gloria Castelluccio, Mrs. Elizabeth Abrams, and Miss Janice Stauffer.

During anxious moments at home games, Cheerblock members urge the Trojans on to a win.

Lettermen Use Funds For Community Service

Profits from the Lettermen's activities this year were used for community service, such as the Multiple Sclerosis Fund. Set aside also, was a small amount for admission fees to professional basketball games. Money was received from the football throw at the Walter P. Whoopee and selling the magazine, Basketball Preview.

Active use of the vocal chords was one of the requirements for N'Men membership. Singing the school song and wearing green and white beanies for a week were required of all initiates.

Chosen to lead the members this year were Kirk Saint, president; Jim Hostetler, vice-president; and Tom Caig, secretary-treasurer. Club sponsors were Mr. Hans Sheridan and Mr. Jerry Michel.

Having completed his pledge tasks, Chris Foster is congratulated by the officers of N'Men.

Boys' Block, Spirit Man Build Morale

Carrying his trusty Spirit Stick and leaping out of tall garbage cans, Spirit Man once again served as Boys' Cheerblock's mascot. Chuck Shallenberg was elected by fellow members to carry on the Spirit Man tradition initiated last season.

During home games, Boys' Cheerblock presented short skits, carried enormous banners and assisted the cheerleaders with yells and chants in their endeavor to build spirit. After a Trojan win Senior members triumphantly sounded the Victory Bell.

Officers were Chris Foster, president; and Chuck Shallenberg, vice-president. Captains for each class were Mike Crider, Rick Hoover, Seniors; Tom Cory, Barry Harter, Juniors; and Rick Foster, Paul Mitchell, Sophomores. Mr. Roscoe Rogers served as the club sponsor.

Emerging from the depths of his can, Spirit Man, Chuck Shallenberg, arouses the enthusiasm of the members of Boys' Cheerblock.

Cadets Gain Experience By Teaching

Experience was gained by the participation in classroom activities and working with children as prospective teachers took part in the Exploratory Teaching Program this year. More than 50 seniors, the greatest number of students ever enrolled in this program, experienced a new trend in education. One group was "on the job" in the elementary schools under the direction of Miss Pearl Dunn while the other group was enrolled in psychology under Miss Muzetta Guymon. A special interim feature entitled Independent Project was added as an additional opportunity.

Career Night, held on January 28, honored the participants.

After having completed a unit of study on the Indians, these students listen to an old legend told by cadet Susan Lockhart and Keith Wimmer.

These students participating in the Exploratory Teaching program this year are (FRONT ROW) Randy Polk, Diana McWhorter, Carol Tramel, Carla Tomey, Kristi Link, Cindy Clevenger, and Miss Pearl Dunn, advisor. (SECOND ROW) Cinda Shinn, Dee Ann Sanders, Terrie Judkins, Peggy Holloway, Elsa Millikan, Peggy Brooks, and Rita Alcorn. (THIRD ROW) Rick Clark, Diana Winter, Karen Davis, Phyllis Thompson, Kathy Carter, Susan Long, and Angie Ham. (FOURTH ROW) Carol D'Amico, Sheila Pritchett, Jim Hostetler, Kirk Saint, Bill Mullen, Joe Petty, Jeff Petty, Pam Phares, and Margaret Stairs. (BACK ROW) Steve Clark, Terri Bowers, Gail Noland, Donna Rush, Allen Feeley, Bill Walker, Jerry Campbell, Trudi Boyd, and Jean Clark.

G.A.A. Members Participate In Sports

Varsity sports for girls finally arrived at C.H.S. this year. To start this program, G.A.A. set up two kinds of membership, year-round and seasonal. Girls participating in interschool sports could join during just one particular sports season.

Dressed in old clothes and sneakers, the year-round members met every Thursday afternoon to participate in such sports as volleyball, basketball, bowling, and tennis. Honor points were accumulated and individual awards were given.

At the spring picnic, the identity of the Honor Girl, elected by the members, was revealed. The engraved plaque was awarded to senior Deanna Smith.

Officers were Susan Cadwallader, president; Nancy Apple, vice-president; Sheila Pritchett, secretary; and Deanna Smith, treasurer. Miss Jean Stellingwerf was the sponsor.

Showing the tension of the game, Anita Batt guards forward Luanne Larrison.

Members of the Girls' Athletic Association are (FRONT ROW) Jennings, Trester, Marcum, Dixon, Caig, Apple, Cadwallader, Smith, Pritchett, Green, Tyler, Sheats, Noland, Conner, Michael, Herndon, Goar, and Chambers. (SECOND ROW) Painter, McClure, Pfeiffer, Suter, Judkins, Larrison, Mastin, Wimmer, States, Schwier, Murray, Bowers, Cox, Bir, Sells, Gregory, Shelton, and Spencer. Band Members Win Honors In District, State

Fourteen firsts, eleven seconds and three third place ratings were awarded to CHS band members who entered the district solo and ensemble contest at Ball State University. Four soloists and four ensembles went on to the state contest at Butler University where they received four firsts and four second place ratings.

In April, the entire band participated in the Indiana Music Association Organization Contest held at BSU. They were awarded a rating of excellent.

Having received a special invitation, the band presented a pre-game and half-time show for Earlham College last fall. The band also marched in the BSU Homecoming Parade.

Accompanied by the Pom-Pon Corps, the band presented lively half-time shows during home football games.

In August this year, band will attend a band camp at General Butler State Park, Carollton, Kentucky, in preparation for the State Fair Marching Contest in September.

Band officers are (FRONT ROW) M. Thrall, vice-president; and D. Filson, president. (BACK ROW) A. Feeley, drum major; H. Ho, treasurer; M. Mastin, historian; K. Wallace, secretary; and J. Risley, drum major.

Led by drum majors Allen Feeley and John Risley, the band marches onto the football field.

Vocalists Host District Choral Festival

Bringing home a fifth place trophy from the State Fair Choral Contest in August was only one of the many honors earned by the members of Chorale. Under the direction of Miss Della Mae Tronchuk, the diversified Chorale gave a moving performance of "Amahl and the Night Visitors," and sang at convos.

The nationally known director, Mr. Donald Craig, was the guest conductor of the Eastern Indiana District Choral Festival held here on March 13. Eight hundred students from eastern Indiana high schools performed before the public.

Officers for Chorale were Teresa Lorton, president and student director; Stephen Clark, vice-president; Teresa Bowers, secretary; and Rick Gann, treasurer.

For the first time in many years, ten interested students composed the string ensemble. The members of this group performed in "Amahl and the Night Visitors."

Members of the String Ensemble are Michele Sieffert, Ellen Saint, Luanne Larrison, Ann Wimmer, Sue States, Carol Goar, Laurel Bookout, Marc Lewis, Ronnie Moore, and Betsy John.

Members of the diversified Chorale earned several honors this year. The members are (FRONT ROW) Waters, Painter, Weber, Turnbull, Sorenson, Steussy, Soliday, Bober, Worthington, Montgomery, Keaton, T. Detmer, Baugh, Millikan, and Miss Tronchuk. (SECOND ROW) Crisp, Perdew, Shallenberg, Rust, Hoover, Gann, McDonald, Foster, Caine, Denney, Heck, Clark, and Smith. (THIRD ROW) Bowers, Huxhold, Batt, Webber, K. Detmer, Dennison, Peterson, Gates, Suter, Bookout, Grigsby, Kirby, Wallace, and Rodenberg. (BACK ROW) D. Williams, W. Williams, Shelley, Yeater, Van Meter, Grunden, Davis, Brooks, Judkins, Larrison, Davies, Morris, Feeley, John, and Lorton.

New, colorful, 16th century costumes provide an atmosphere typical of the Renaissance period as a backdrop for the 1969-1970 Madrigal performances. Under the direction of Miss Della Mae Tronchuk, members of this year's Madrigal are Joanie Yeater, Ron Keaton, Betsy John, Ted Rust, Denise Williams, Tom Detmer, Teresa Lorton, Mark Webber, Sylvia Dennison, John Montgomery, Karen Wallace, and Dan Turnbull.

Music for the 1969-1970 Swing Choir is choreographed to correspond with their Broadway tune hits. Members are (FRONT ROW) K. Wallace, T. Lorton, E. Millikan, K. Detmer, and D. Waters. (BACK ROW) R. Gann, T. Rust, R. Keaton, J. Montgomery, C. Shallenberg, and M. Weber.

Preparing for the annual District Solo and Ensemble Contest at Ball State are Ted Rust, Becky Davies, and Tom Detmer.

Academics

CHS has long been a leader,

In schedule innovations,

New teaching techniques,

In most things academic.

Reorganization of the library's files,

The introduction of microfilm.

New resources for history classes.

The fusing of technology and older

Classical methods of teaching,

Has produced a new breed,

Among teachers and students,

Learning is the purpose,

CHS is the PLACE.

Mark,
To one of the funniest and most outstanding boys in the class. What a year we've had! I can't believe we're almost seniors! I know this year wouldn't have been half as good without you always running around (bothering me!) Just kidding! Congratulations on the baseball season! And by the way... I haven't hit any dogs lately!!! ☺

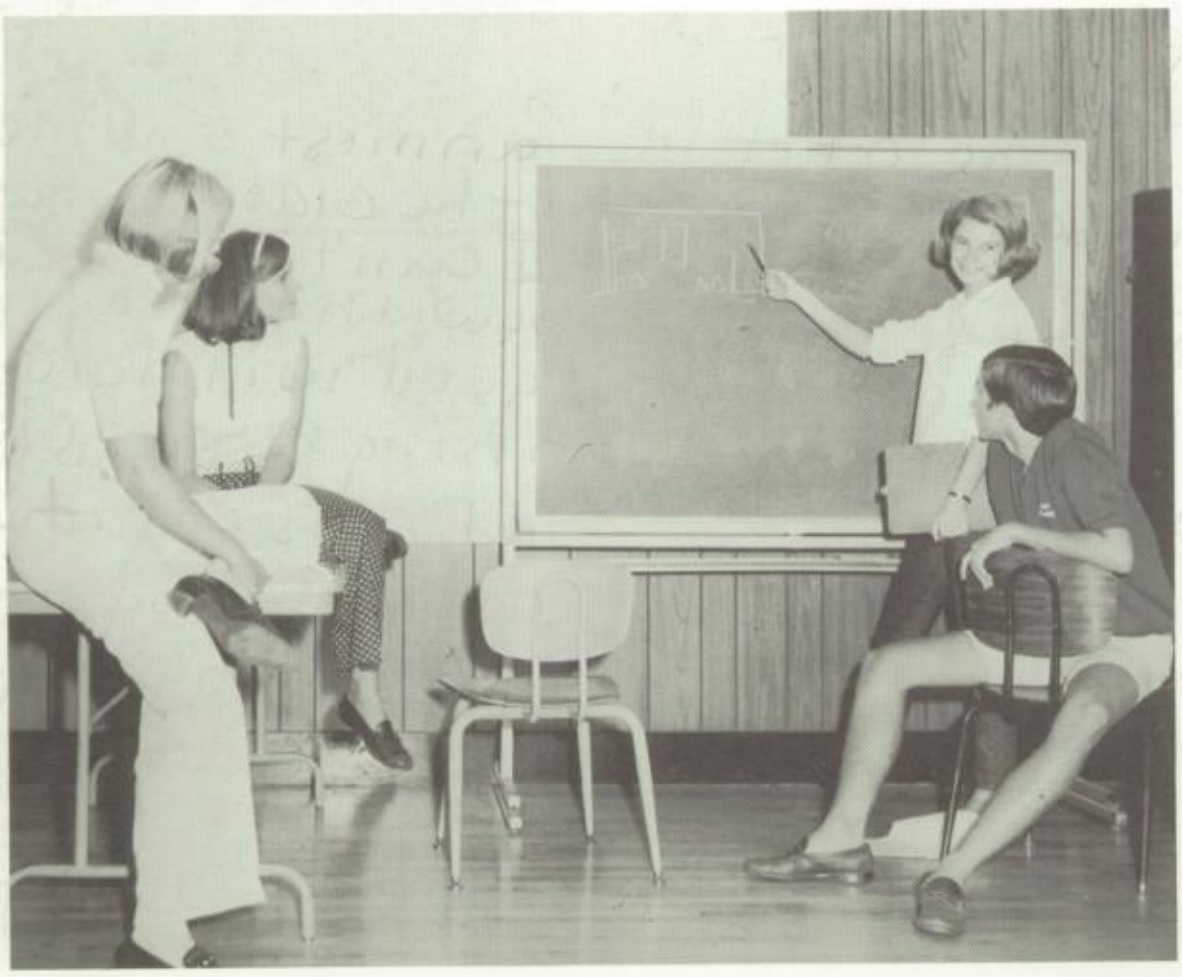
Love,
Joanie
Babcock

Involvement Is Stressed In English

Involvement in the school and community was stressed as English students learned to apply knowledge gained in class to projects outside of school. Two separate areas were offered to students, college preparatory and regular.

Senior classes dealt with studies of man in a modern world and the problems faced in society. Activities such as a "Hero Campaign" and "Support Your Police" made students view the world outside the classroom and become involved in it. Conflicts of man, self, society, nature, and God in essays, short stories and plays were studied by juniors. Sophomores were instructed in the fundamentals of speech and drama. Workshop productions of one act plays were presented in B115 and were observed by most classes.

Senior college English students take independent study time to discuss plans for a class project on the Police Force in today's society.



Student director Pam Phares discusses blocking with cast members Carol Denton, Linda Fowler, and Chuck Shallenberg of "The Sandbox."

Pointing out the importance of involvement is Senior English teacher Mr. Steve Dicken discussing the film "The Detached American."

Media Center Develops With New Materials

Books, files, magazines, and new equipment such as the coin-operated copy machine helped the library to become a media center. Audio-visual equipment made the center more complete and efficient.

A quiet study and research area was maintained to insure a working atmosphere. The teachers' section was expanded to provide for professional growth. Micro-filmed magazine articles provided room for more materials. Many hours of work by the librarian and her assistants went into organizing a functional library system.

Students donated their efforts to the library by shelving, repairing books, and doing general desk work to relieve the librarians from clerical tasks. This provided for an introduction to library work for interested student apprentices.

Daily, many students choose the library as a quiet place of study during independent study time.

Taking advantage of materials in the library, senior Vicki Bell completes her stock report.

Knowledge of World Cultures, People

Students of foreign languages were able to broaden their knowledge with the addition of a third year in Russian along with the four years of French, Spanish, and three years of Latin. Much lab work was done using tapes of native speakers to help in pronunciation. Tapes proved invaluable to classroom work.

The languages dealt with the study of culture and environment of foreign peoples. Preparation of food for parties and the traditional pre-Thanksgiving Foreign Food Bazar added interest to the subjects. Several Spanish students tutored migrant children and gained first hand experience with people of different cultures.

The annual Foreign Student Day in April brought students from around the world to Chrysler for a day. Visitors attended classes and participated in discussions about their respective countries. They were guests in New Castle homes for dinner and an open house party, after which they attended the all-school "Internationale," a dance that has become a tradition in Chrysler High.

Honors Tests Determine Ability In Math

Sophomores and Juniors took advantage of the flexible system in mathematics to prepare their assignments, labs, and small group materials. Each student directed his own course during the year. Honors tests were available for those who felt they could keep up to date on various chapters without lectures and small groups according to their progress and understanding of the assignments. Participation was an important part in making small group sessions worthwhile. Contributions of students promoted the necessary atmosphere for learning and experimenting with methods and problems in mathematics.

Tina Holsapple Wins Trip To Science Meet

Keeping up to date with the world, Public Service Indiana sponsored Senior Tina Holsapple on a trip to Chicago. Tina attended the National Youth Conference on the Atom in the fall and was among young scientists from all over the country.

Biology, chemistry, physics were offered for complete study in the Science Department. Open labs and closed circuit television lectures made it possible for students to work at their own rate. Small groups were valuable when explanations or individual help were needed.

Responsibility, In Outside Work Experiences

The arrival of some thirty new machines enabled approximately 700 students to take advantage of opportunities offered them in the Business Department. A variety of subjects ranged from personal typing, to shorthand, office machines, and bookkeeping.

O.E. and D.E. were two vocational business programs in which students had a work experience. Office Education students received training in local offices as typists and bookkeepers while Distributive Education students worked in businesses, gaining experience in marketing, management, and merchandising. The total enrollment of these two programs was 41.

Three clubs in the department stressed leadership and responsibility. They were Office Education Association, Distributive Education Clubs of America, and Future Business Leaders of America.

Learning to take shorthand becomes an easy task for Junior Pam Schexnayder.

Senior O.E.A. members Betty Lively and Kathy Dickey use new business equipment for typing dictation. These are two of the new office machines.

Boys' Home Economics Is Offered To Sophs

Trends toward a woman's world are changing and man is being placed into more family and home situations. Keeping up to date with these changes, Home Ec for boys was offered. An introduction to home management was included in the course along with other lessons important to men on the job and at home. Fieldtrips to Warren Worl's and Huntington Industries helped to suggest occupations.

One of the main goals of homemaking was being aware of problems in the community. Head Start children were guests of a few girls and received refreshments and clothing prepared in class. Helping people in need gave a new understanding of the problems of poverty.

The Home Economics Department was remodeled to facilitate an efficiency apartment which gave the student an experience in family cooking and living.

Industrial Arts Provide Skills For Vocations

Preparing for the future, young craftsmen trained for various trades in the Industrial Arts Department. During the year, various projects were completed. Some examples were games, wheel barrows, and audio-amplifiers with power supplies. Houses were designed for drafting, and miniature replicas were made by interested students.

Devices used in teaching almost 450 students were varied. The newest additions were the loop-films. These small portable projectors made it easy for students to handle them whenever they needed individual help and teachers weren't available for assistance.

Machine Shop students Doug Guthrie and David Donica are well trained in running a lathe.

Displaying skill in auto mechanics, Junior Darrell Fox checks for wheel defects.

New Activities Adds Interest To Phys Ed.

Both indoor and outdoor facilities provided for a variety of activities for those enrolled in the Physical Education department. Outdoor activities included archery, football, soccer, softball, speedball, tennis, and track. In the gym, badminton, basketball, shuffle board, table tennis, tumbling, and wrestling rounded out the curriculum. The addition of an uneven bar for the parallel bars enabled girls as well as boys to gain experience with this equipment.

Although physical education was required only for sophomores, an increasing number of upperclassmen took this course as an elective this year. Much emphasis was placed on developing physical skill and coordination, however, the use of skill tests and written tests was continued to chart each student's progress throughout the year.

Girls' physical education classes warm-up by doing a series of exercises before class.

Materials Are Added In Social Studies

Numerous Social Studies resource materials were added to those already available to students in the department. Access to these materials enabled students to explore ideas other than those mentioned in their textbooks and newspapers.

Continued use of two large group lectures and three small groups a week allowed for a wider variety of topics to be covered. Field trips, films, and speakers added interest to large group activities.

Sociology, in its second year, proved to hold much interest for 80 seniors. To follow their study of crime, students held a simulated trial in class and visited the State Reformatory in Pendleton.

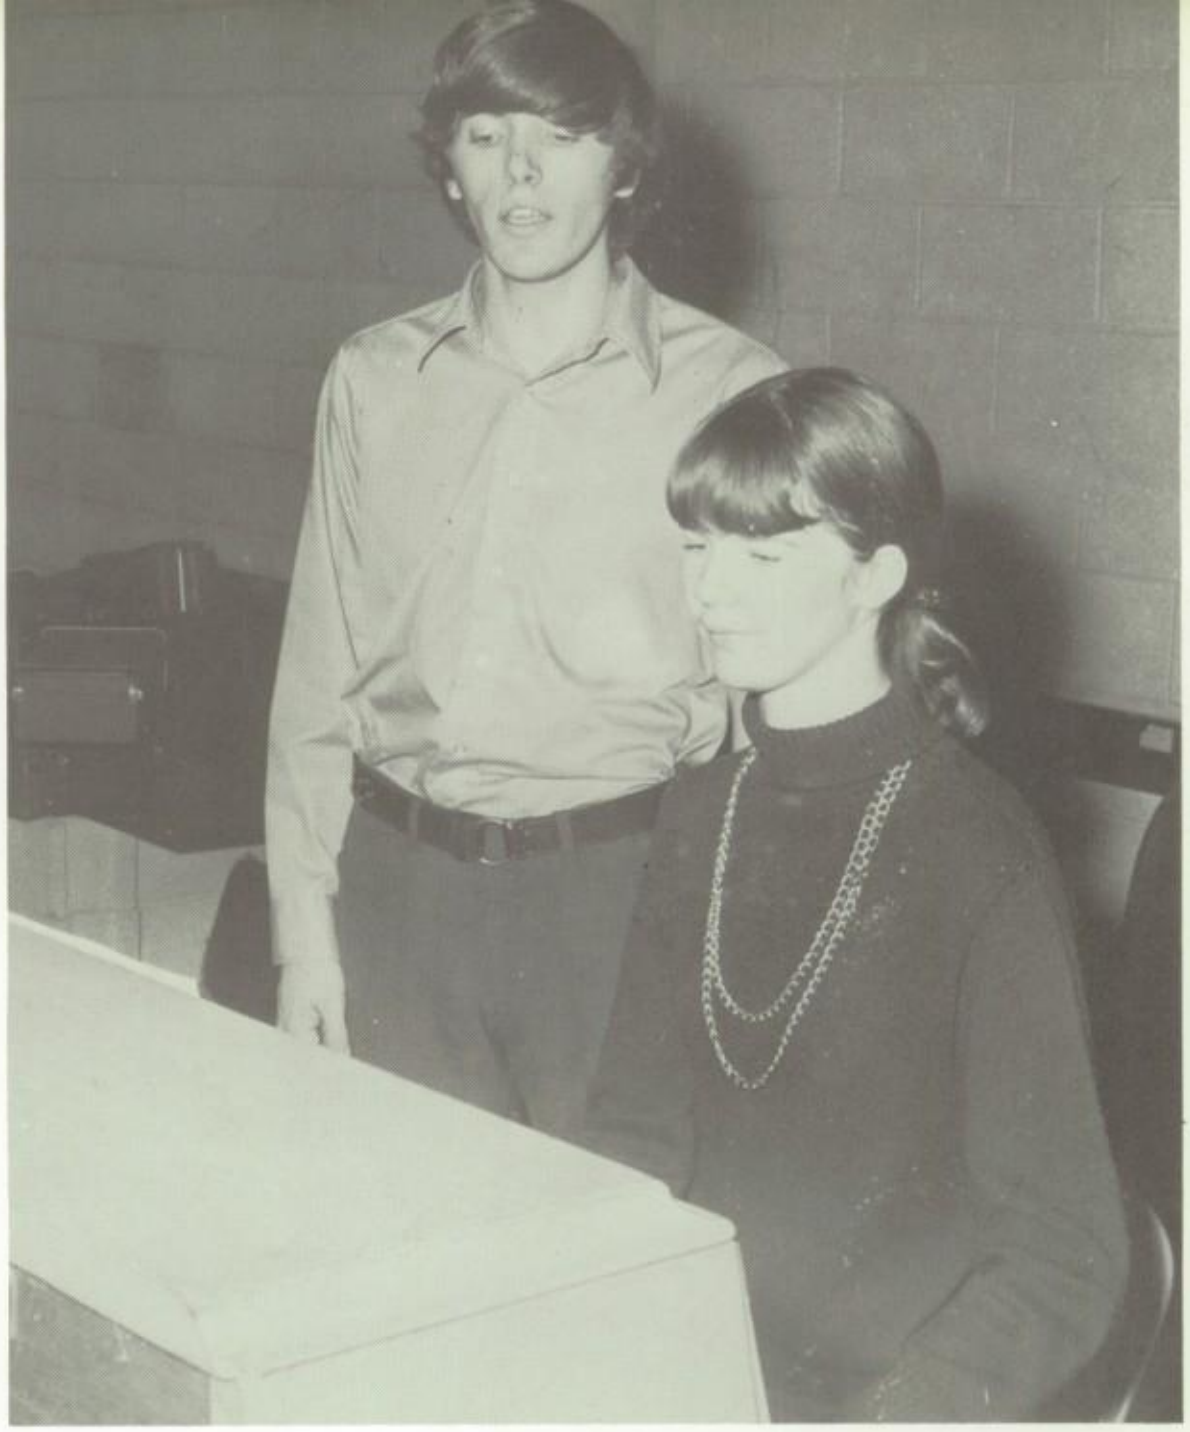
Music Groups Spend Hours In Rehearsals

Three performance areas—Chorale, Band, and String Ensemble—and one academic area—Music Theory—composed the Music Department this year. In the performance areas, many class hours were spent perfecting musical numbers for audience enjoyment and contest competition.

Music Theory was a required course for students planning to major in music. From this course, basic procedures in music composition were learned.

String Ensemble was officially added to the music curriculum as a non-credit course. Members were better prepared for the musical productions as a result of this class.

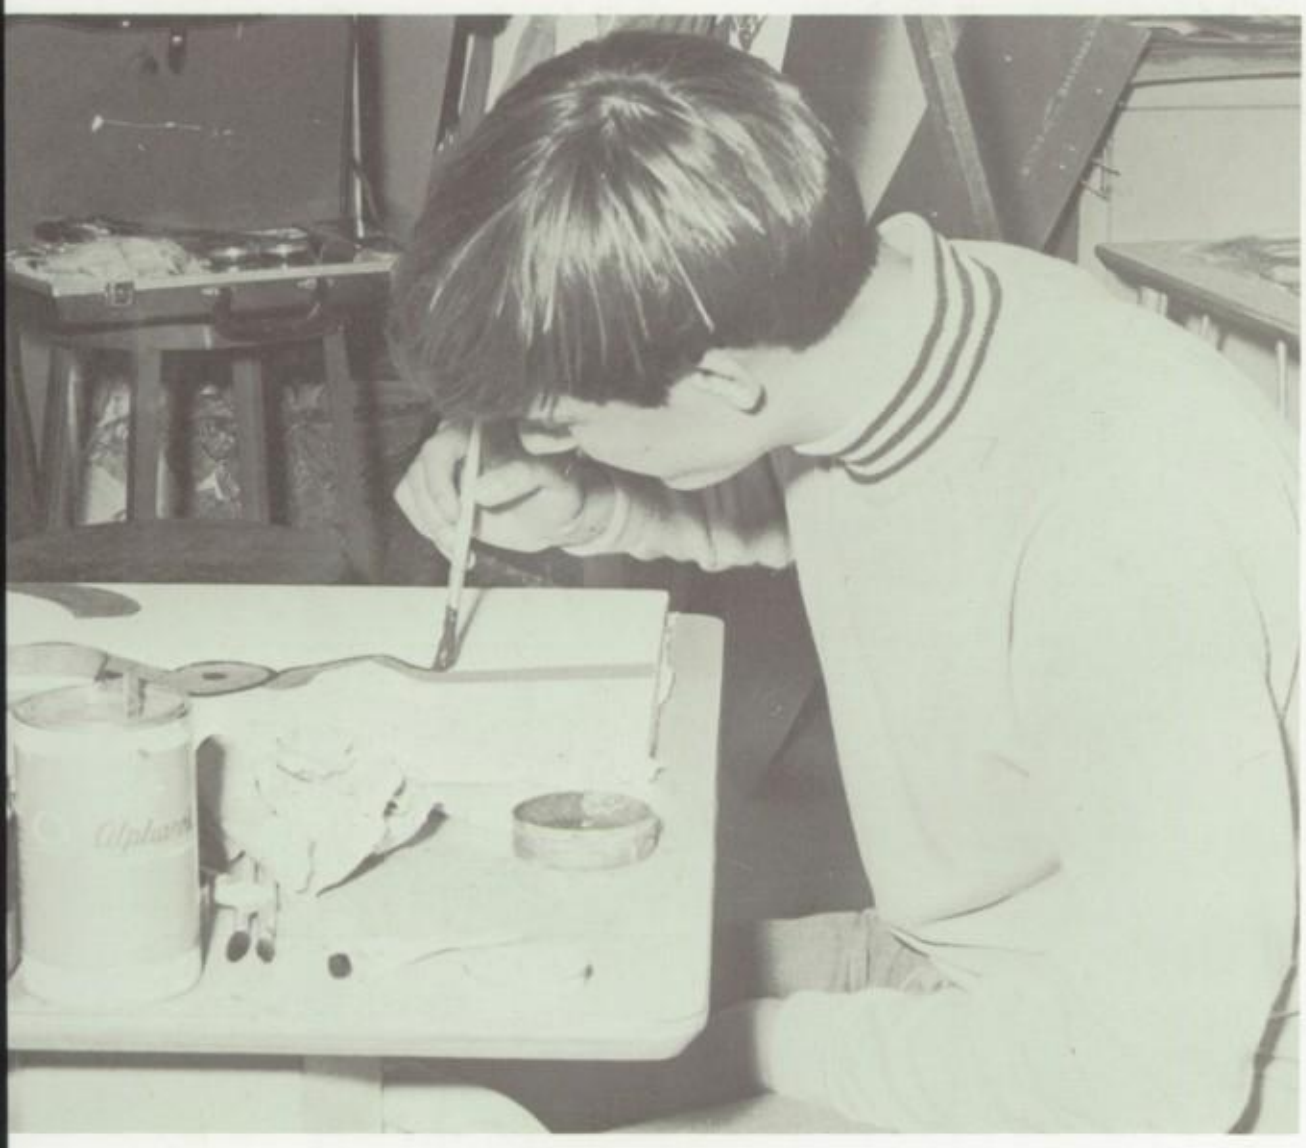
Extra-curricular activities of the department included Swing Choir, Madrigal Singers, Dance Band, and Orchestra participation throughout the year.



Chorale members Tom Detmer and Denise Williams practice a number for their next performance.

Trojan spirit is boosted through the Band's enthusiasm during halftime entertainment.

The World Of Creativity Is Explored In Art



Self expression, encouragement, plus the total output of the students helped in creating a more relaxed atmosphere through the Art classes. Students were encouraged to experiment in different media and broaden their knowledge of art materials and techniques. Projects ranged from the practical to a high degree of expression.

Art shows within the community made it possible for student work to be exhibited more often. Results from these local shows proved that there was a rising interest in the creative arts field. Students also studied the world of great masters by traveling to museums in Chicago and Cincinnati. Art Club was formed this year to give financial aid and organize fieldtrips of the same nature and type.

Classes available were beginning Arts and Crafts for an introduction to media. For advanced work Art Seminar, Drawing and Sculpture, and Painting and Pottery were offered. To stimulate interest in artists and their work Art Appreciation was available to any student.

Sports

Heart racing, lungs bursting,
The athlete works.
Bitter-tasting sweat on his lips,
Muscles aching, mind reeling.
Sports reward with vitality,
But not always victory.
To suffer defeat after defeat,
Crushes spirit, diverts effort.
Times like these try a school's spirit.
When there seems no purpose,
In cheering or playing hard.
Trojans must now remember,
That their efforts are not for self,
But for CHS.
CHS is the PLACE,
Spirit gives it a PURPOSE.

Mark;
I'm sure glad I got to know you this year! You're a great guy with a marvelous personality. So far you're headed in the right direction! Keep going that way. Good Luck in Sports and everything else.

Harriers Finish Second Undefeated Season

For the second consecutive year, the harriers have gone undefeated in dual and triangular meets. Putting together another strong team, the Trojans brought home the trophy from the Burris Invitational and finished in the top division of the NCC with a fourth place. The lone disappointment of the year came for the harriers when they failed to repeat as sectional champions, being edged out by a tough Richmond team.

Coach Veach loses two-thirds of his varsity crew this year. The senior members leaving are Captain Allen Feeley, Jay Pickering, David Morris, Bill Walker, and Steve Pass. In the past three seasons, these Trojans helped in winning 21 straight dual meets and have a high school career record of 24-2-1. During the last three years they have won the Burris Invitational twice along with two sectional championships.

Hoping to continue the Trojans' winning streak next year are Juniors Paul Walker, Dennis Sloan, Doug Black, and Sophomore Kelly Cartwright. With this ability returning Coach Veach is looking for his third successive undefeated season.

Leading the pack around the corner tree, Jay "Bird" Pickering stretches out for the straightaway finish.

Trojan front runners, Captain Allen Feeley and Paul Walker, provide the power for a high North Central Conference finish.

The depth of the team this season came from harriers Doug Black, Dennis Sloan, and Bill Walker.

Trojans Find Inexperience Hard To Overcome

Hans Sheridan took over the top coaching position for the 1969 gridiron season with Paul Gallo moving up from the reserve team to assist him. With only six lettermen returning to action from last season's team, he accepted the difficult task of building the Trojans into NCC caliber. Academic difficulties and injuries took key players away from the footballers. As all young, inexperienced teams, the Trojans made errors, and though they practiced hard in order to correct them, these miscues often cost the gridders the game.

Performing their best against arch-rival Muncie Central, the varsity began to click in the second quarter after a slow opening period. The offense rolled up three scores through the air, while the defense stopped Muncie for —7 second-half rushing yards.

Eleven seniors fought hard in their last year in an effort to make it a good season. Junior linebacker Tom Cory received recognition when he was named for All-Conference honorable mention the second year in a row for the Trojans.

Seniors on the team were Chris Foster, Tom Caig, Rick Tully, Steve Auten, Mike Hagerman, Rick Hoover, Duane Mathews, Bob Brown, Jerry Bach, Tony Ganly, and Mark Ledbetter.

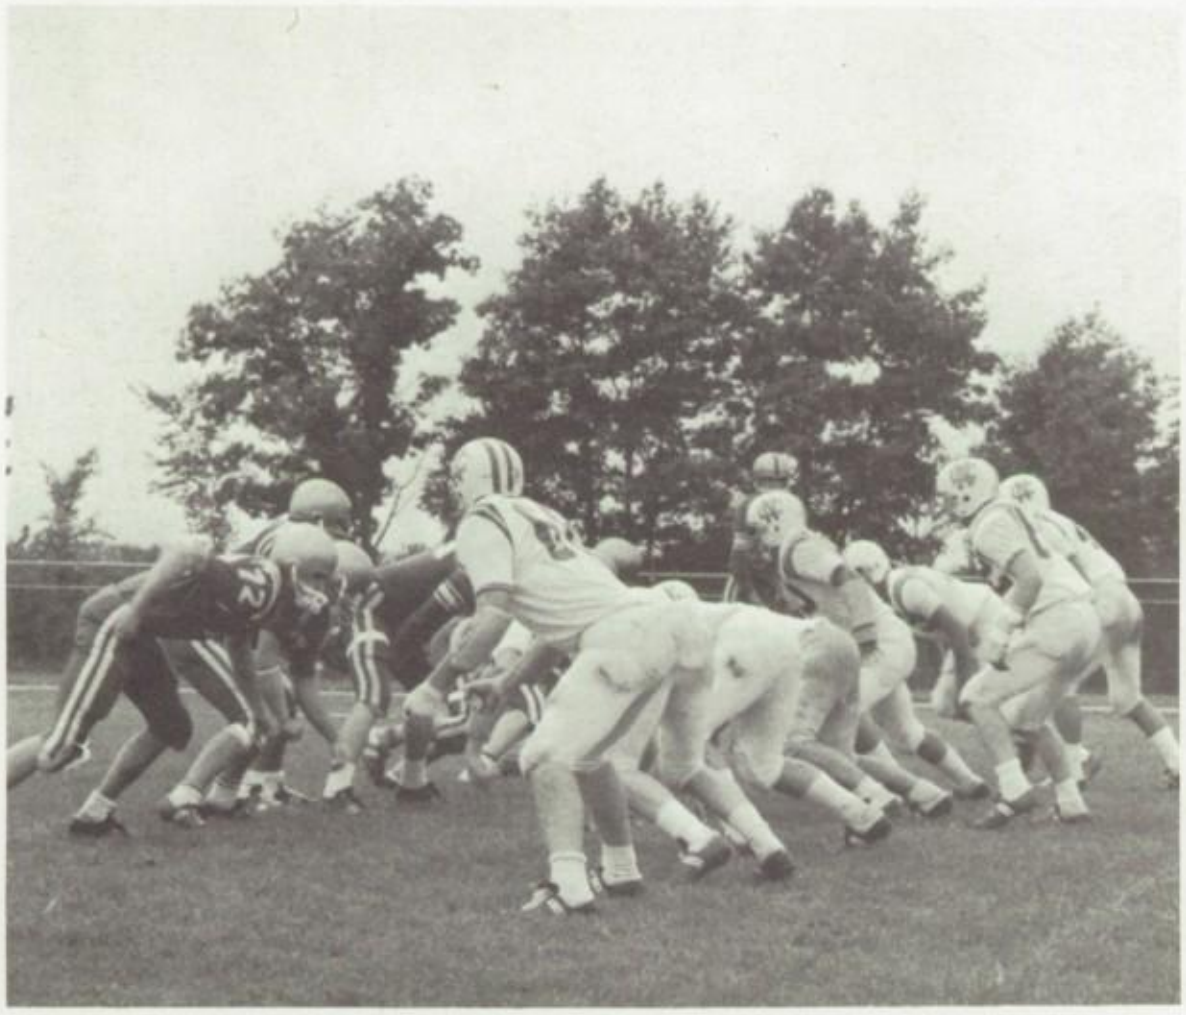
Young Reserves Acquire Valuable Experience

The Colt defense stiffens at midfield as the Muncie South reserves try for a first down on a third down and one yard situation. The reserves' defense helped the team often in close games.



The reserves completed their season on a bright note by battling the Rushville Cubs to a 0-0 tie in a tight defensive contest. Their record for this year was 0-4-1 under new coaches Jerry Koger and Jerry Michel. Although the schedule was short, each game was valuable as the reserves gained the experience so vital to the varsity. The season opener was the well-played Muncie Central game in which the Colts lost 16 to 12. Jerry DeHart ran 50 yards with a recovered fumble for a score and Craig Wolf scored a touchdown on a five yard sneak for New Castle to make five yard sneak for New Castle.

Several of the reserves were brought up to the varsity at the close of the reserve schedule. Craig Wolf, Phil Conley, and Rob Upchurch earned varsity letters.

Hostetler, Davis Place Third in Regional

The doubles team of Jim Hostetler and Don Davis help lead the Trojans to their first sectional win.

Senior captain Jim Hostetler with Junior Don Davis led the first sectional sweep ever for the Trojans. Jim and Don then entered the regional where they placed third in doubles play. The tennis team, composed of all underclassmen with Senior Hostetler being the lone exception, wound out its year with eight wins and five losses. Recording ten wins and three losses on the year were Captain Jim Hostetler, Junior Jerry Lamberson, and Junior Don Davis.

Although they didn't advance to regional play Jerry Lamberson, Mike Lee, Ron Stine, and Buddy Day all took part in the sectional with Jim Carithers acting as alternate. By winning the sectional the netmen got revenge for losses inflicted upon them by Anderson and Richmond during the season. Jim Hostetler and Don Davis won 15 points in the sectional for the Trojans with Jerry Lamberson and Mike Lee adding the other 8 by gaining 4 points apiece.

Girls' Athletic Squad Begins Era For CHS

Unfolding a new era of athletics for CHS was a successful girls' tennis team. Directed by Coach Leitch, the tough Trojanette squad wound up the year with four wins and one defeat. The squad was overpowered 4 to 3 by the Richmond team but downed Knightstown by a 5 to 2 margin. The team completely demoralized Centerville's team 7 to 0 and proved its superiority against the Vikings from Blue River, by defeating them twice by scores of 6 to 1 and 5 to 2.

Although they played like a group of veterans, the squad lacked know-how. Everyone on the squad, made up of five Seniors, one Junior, and two Sophomores, was without experience since previous to this year, they had no chance to participate in any school sponsored sport.

Senior members of the girls tennis squad were Janet Lacey, Susie Piros, Nancy Davis, Donna Means, and Terri Bell. Each of these girls earned trophies.

Grapplers Place Three Men In Regional

Coach Hans Sheridan's grapplers finished the season with a two win and eight loss dual meet record. In tournament competition, the wrestlers placed fourth in the New Castle Invitational, seventh in the Columbus Invitational, eighth in the Conference, second in the sectional, and sixth out of 24 teams in the regional.

Five grapplers turned in outstanding performances during sectional and regional action. Chris Foster came in second and Phil Barr fourth in the sectional. Doug VanDam, Bill Thomas, and Fred Sears all placed first in their weight classes. These three then went to the regional where Fred placed fourth and Doug third. Bill, beaten in the final match, finished second.

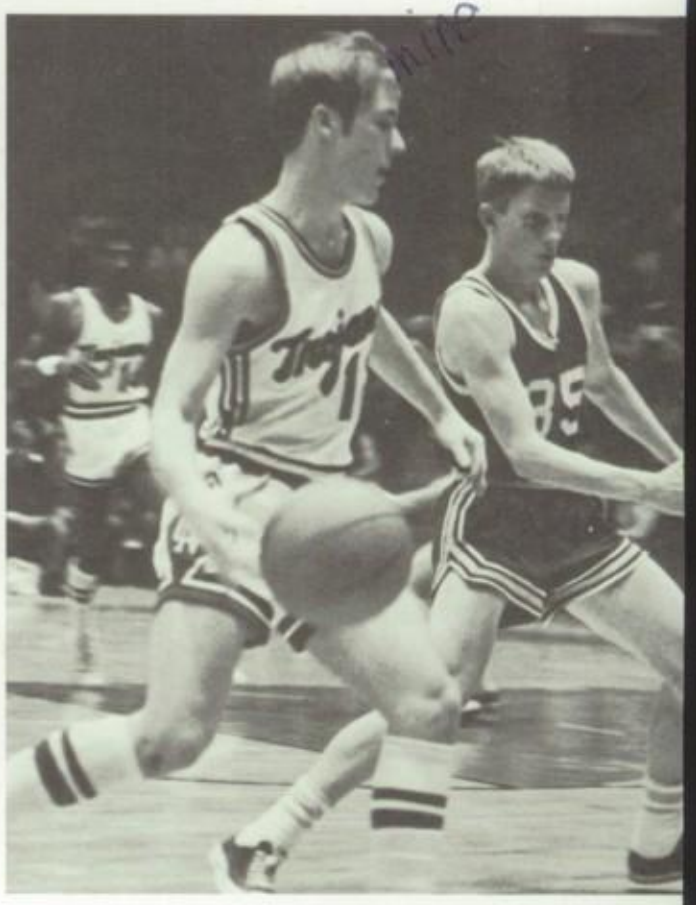
Trojans Finish Disappointing 7-15 Campaign—

Clutch shooting late in the ball game brings Coach Tague, Neil Thornhill, Coach Meyer, and Mike Lee off the bench with inspiration.

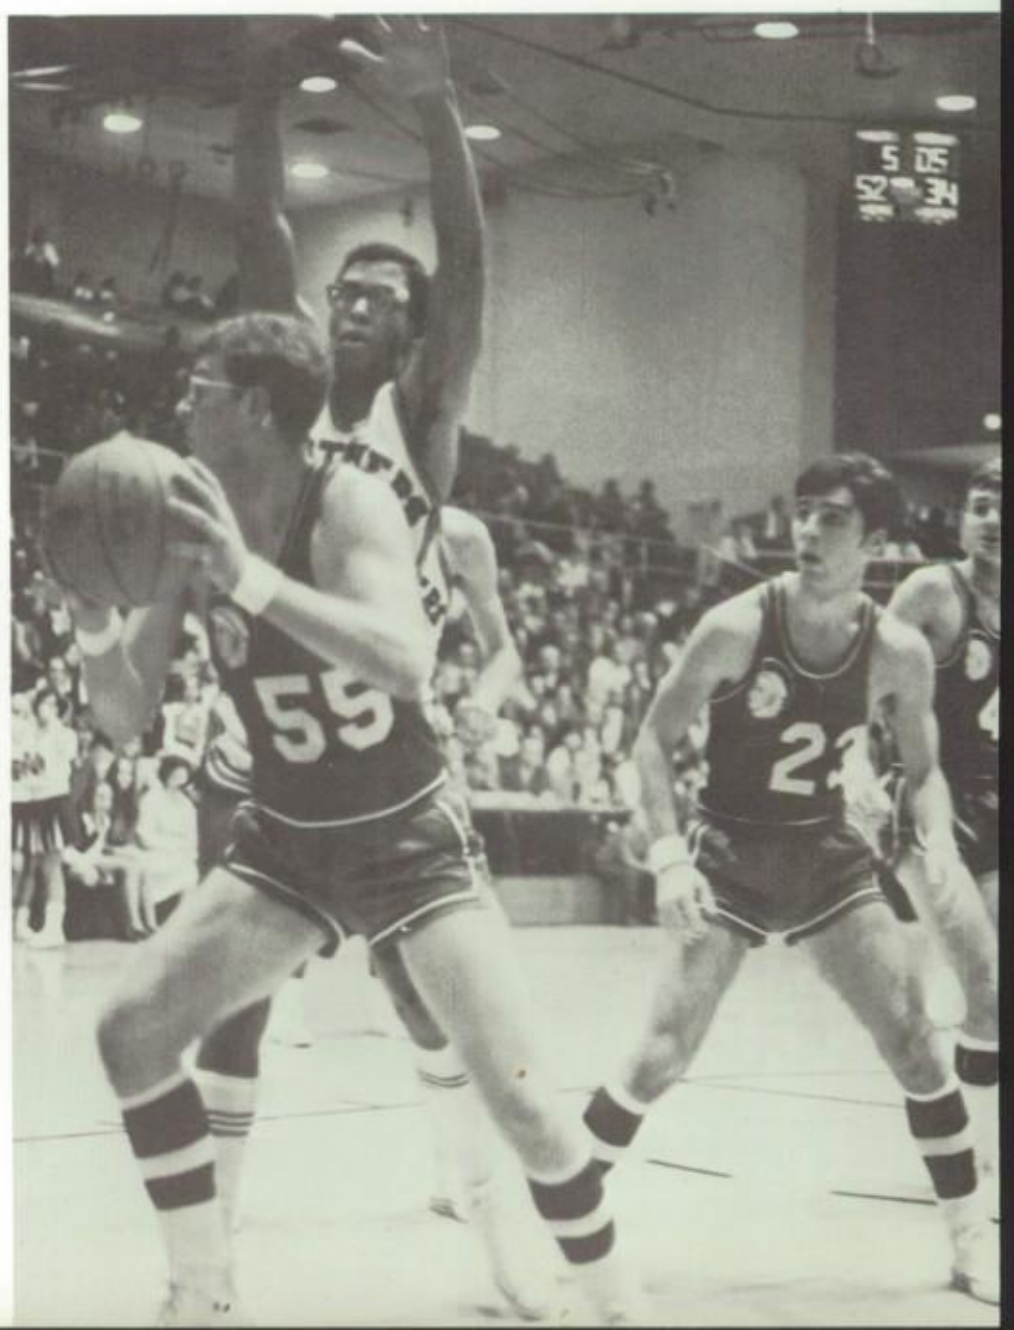
Conference scoring champ Wayne Tague slips by his opponent as he drives toward the basket. Wayne's outside shooting often kept the Trojans ahead.



Unpredictable best explains the 1969-1970 roundballers. The Trojans fell to the worst record in fifteen years. but played great ball on occasion. After an opening loss to Knightstown, the team dropped four more in a row before winning over Hagerstown. A 70-58 sectional loss to Shenandoah eliminated the hoopers. from tourney competition.

Juggling the line-up many times to find the correct combination, Coach Cecil Tague arrived at the quintet of Dane Bolden, Jerry Lamberson, Brent Popplewell, Neil Thornhill and Wayne Tague.

In the North Central Conference, the Trojans settled for seventh place with a mark of 2-5. Victories were earned over Logansport, 85-51, and Lafayette, 82-78. Senior guard Wayne Tague led the circuit in point making with 150 tallies for a 21.4 average. He hit for 28 points against Richmond and came back with 29 against Anderson to rank as only the sixth conference scoring champ from New Castle. Wayne's performances earned him a spot on the All-Conference Team.



Senior center Jeff Cook moves with the basketball against North Central. Twenty-two points and fifteen rebounds were Jeff's contribution this game.

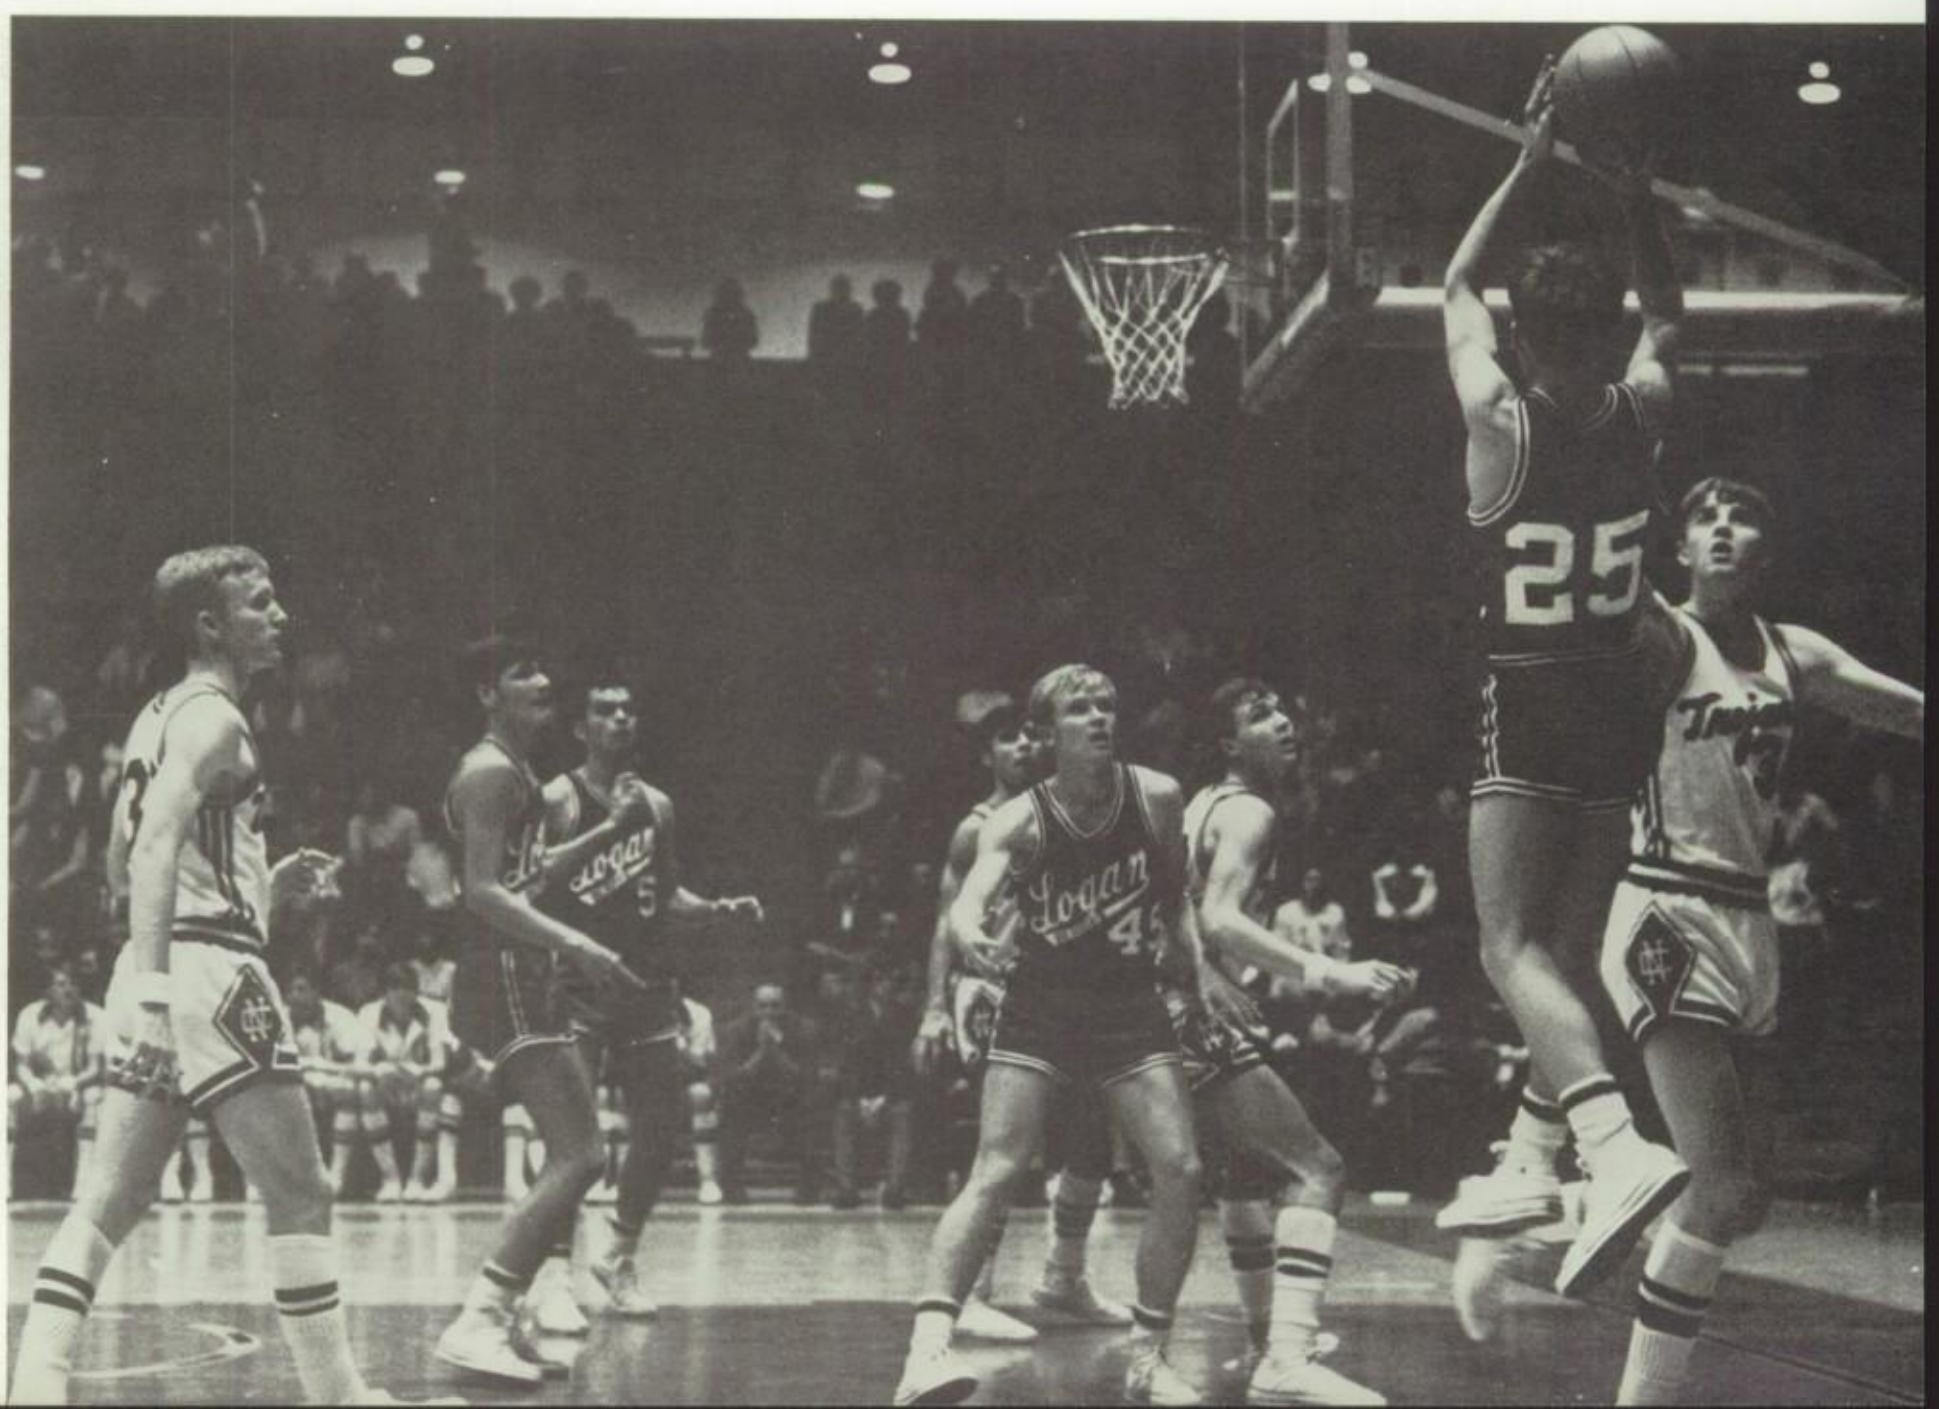
Underclassmen Play Key Role In Season

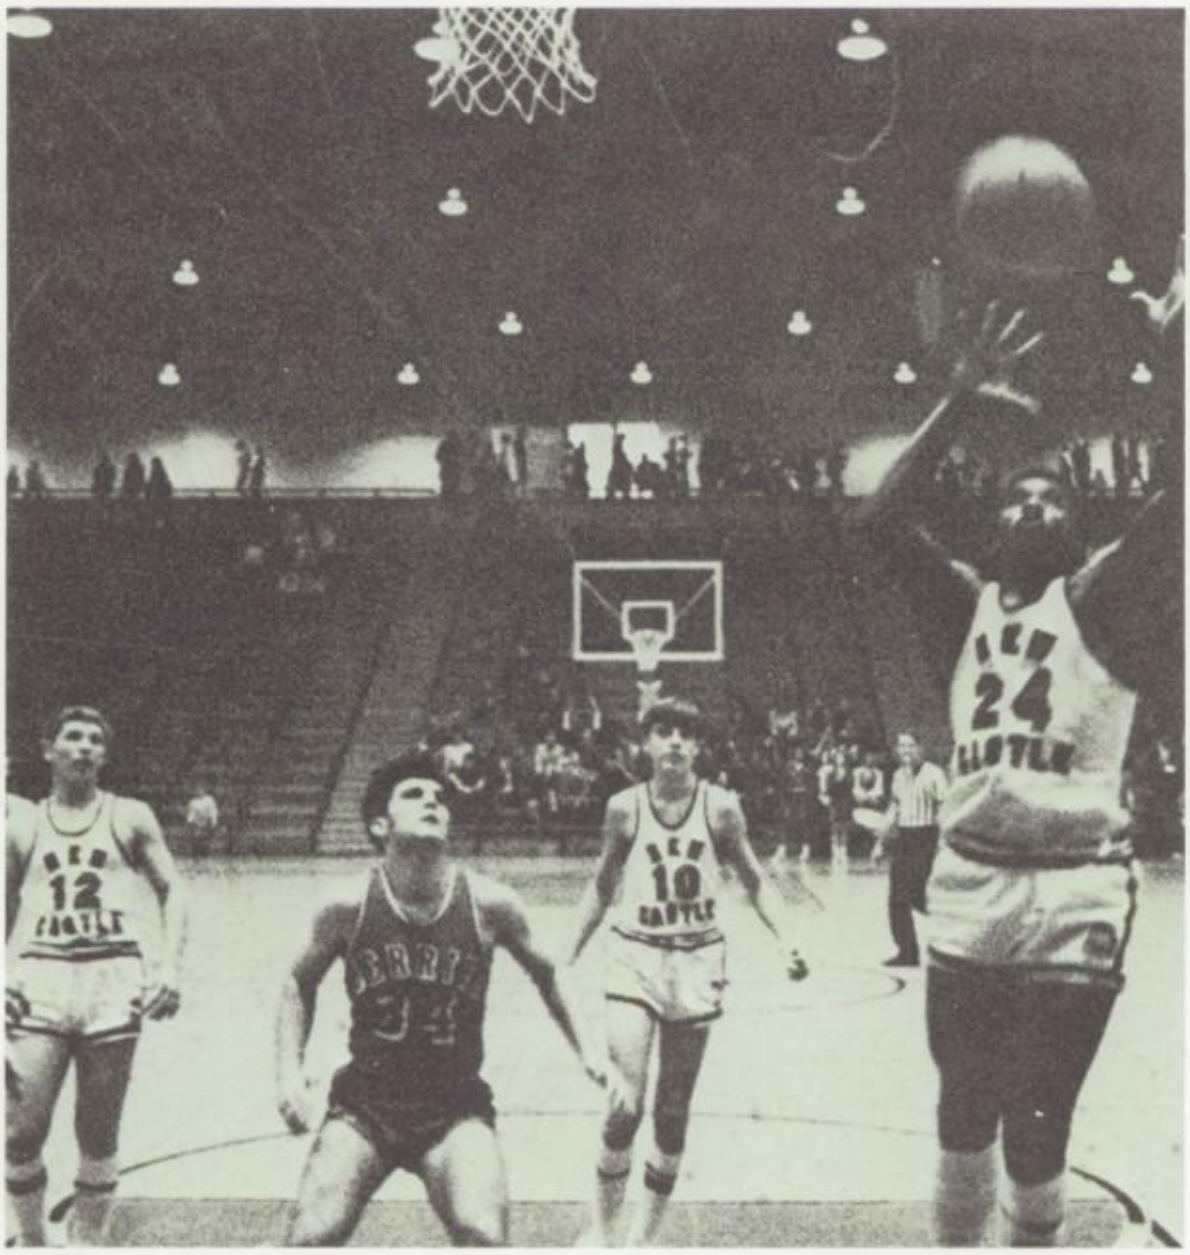
Scrambling to win each time out, the Trojans still fell to the deceiving 7-15 mark. The hoopers' average losing margin was only 7.8 points, and they actually outscored their twenty-two opponents by 82 points. A string of three straight one-point defeats proves the team's hard luck.

Despite the dismal campaign, many factors were bright. One of the most important was the development of several key underclassmen. For the first time since the 1965 sectional, the Trojans hit the century scoring mark, first with a 100-48 win over Hagerstown, and again with a sectional record 106 points against Tri High. The 87-78 victory over Lafayette and fine play in the Muncie Central and Kokomo games were proud season marks. Coach Tague was named to the Lions Club Basketball Hall of Fame.

Fighting to gain possession, Junior Brent Popplewell jumps high against Knightstown as Duane Bolden blocks his man out of play.



As a shot is taken, Lamberson and Popplewell battle for rebound position while guard Thornhill sets for a possible fast break.



Colts Post 7th Winning Slate In Seven Years

Determination, spirit and good teamwork enabled Coach Larry Meyer's roundballers to post a 14-6 record and mark up the seventh consecutive winning slate for New Castle's reserve basketball teams.

Opening the season with wins over Knightstown and North Central, the Colts remained over .500 all year and brought home a second place from the Muncie Holiday Tourney. Against Rushville, Dave Snodgress made four of his 21 points in the last seconds to lead the B-Team to a 47-43 victory. The team's best showing was against Kokomo as they shot a blistering 56 percent to win. An all-around team effort gave Coach Meyer his 50th win in four years as reserve mentor.

In the closing moments of a successful game, sophomore reserves gain the experience which is necessary for good bench strength.

Trojan Tankers Complete First Winning Season

For the first time in Chrysler swimming history, the Trojans placed members in the State Finals. Bob Hall qualified in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle events, while Gary Sloan went in the 100 yard backstroke. Three co-captains led the team all year as Hall was undefeated in his 50 yard event and conference and sectional champion in the same race. Sloan finished the year with eight firsts and three seconds and was runner-up in the NCC and sectional. Junior Steve Carter began in diving then finished the year as first man in the 100 yard breaststroke.

Under the direction of William Williams, as first year head coach, the Tankers ended the year with a six win-five loss over-all record.

Freshman Joe Reece begins his diving performance.

Leading by ten yards, Junior John Heilman begins to sprint the last twenty-five yards as his teammates watch him finish with another victory.

Cheerleaders Boost Morale, Spirit of Troy

Leading school teams on to victory and building spirit within the school were big chores for the varsity cheerleading squad consisting of one boy and five girls and the B-team squad of four girls. The squad experimented with many different yells trying to get the greatest amount of support for the Trojan athletes. Miss Gloria Castellucio worked with the six varsity leaders twice every week. These six also attended gymnastic class at the YMCA under Mr. Donald Osborne on Saturday mornings. The B-team was, for the first time, led by Mrs. Elizabeth Abram.

Mr. Horace Cook, athletic director, had a great deal of responsibility placed on him. Mr. Cook was in charge of scheduling all Trojan games, meets, and matches and purchasing equipment. He had the task of selling athletic tickets.

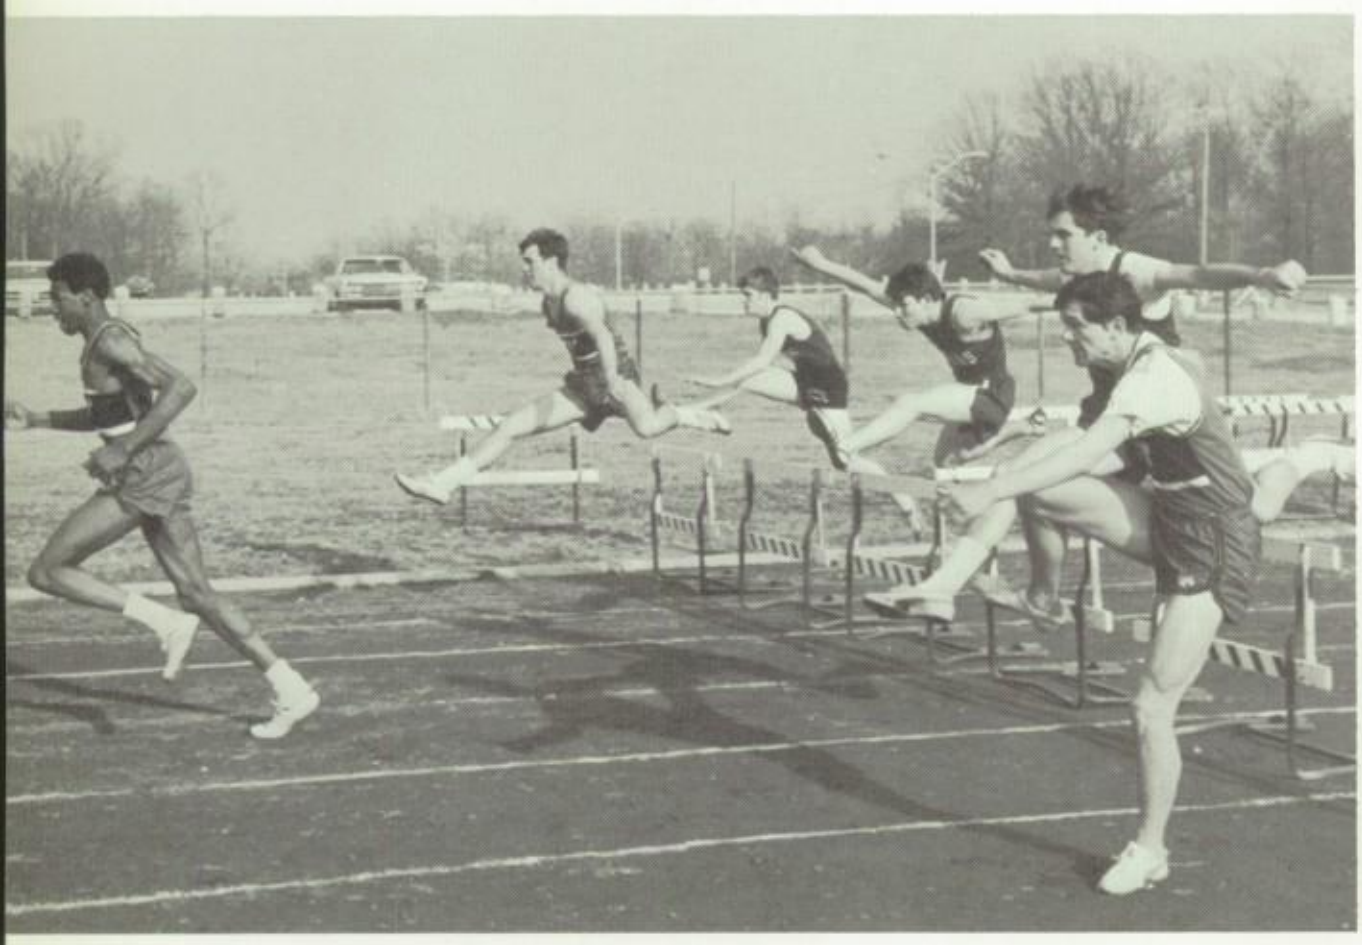
Thinlies Win Trophies From Two Invitationals,

Sporting some of their finest talent, the cindermen of Troy for the first time seized both the Big Five Invitational and their own New Castle Relays. Coach Wilbur Veach felt their success came from the all around team strength and spirit.

Records cracked as the Trojans performed. Junior Allen Feeley moved his own two-mile mark down to 10:16. The long standing long jump record was tied as Senior Dennis Archey made his best leap to 21'7". Leading the team were co-captains Ernie Troxell and Darrell York. Troxell broke his own record again with a throw of 57'4". Both mile and half-mile records fell as York ran best times of 4:25.4 and 1:57.4 respectively. Troxell and York became North Central Conference champions as they both won their individual events in the conference meets.

Deciding to run the half-mile in State tournament competition, York won the sectional crown and finished third in the Indianapolis regional. From there he advanced to the state finals where he finished eighth, only three seconds behind the first place runner.

Leaping for a victory in the long jump, Senior Dennis Archey tied the record with his best leap of 21'7".



Junior Kurt English leads the way as fellow Trojans Larry Hayes and Steve Malone skim over the low hurdles ahead of the competition and score another three-way victory.

Concentration was the key that gave co-captain Ernie Troxell his shot put championship in North Central Conference competition.

York Places Eighth In State Meet

Childs Wins Medalist Honors In NCC Meet

Number one Trojan golfer Bob Childs led the NCC first division final with a 73 low score of all finishers for the day. Childs thus continued a Trojan tradition since 1969 was the third year that a CHS golfer has been low player in NCC action.

Childs' 76.6 average led the team throughout the year. Sporting an 80.4 stroke average, Junior Jeff Cook held down second position. Three sophomores rounded out the team, Rick Matney posted a standard of 83.2 with Joe Fuller and Greg Goff averaging 88 strokes a match. These Trojans provided the depth that earned for them a fourth place finish in the NCC meet.

The only setback of the season for the linksmen came when they failed to qualify for regional action. Coach Meyer considered this to be a result of the team's overall youthfulness. With the entire varsity returning, Coach Meyer looked forward to an even better season and vowed to be back in the regional this year.

After the tee-off comes the long fairway walk for Trojans Joe Fuller and Bob Childs.

Coach Larry Meyer finished the season with lettermen Matney, Childs, Fuller, Goff, and Cook.

Precision in putting gives Bob Childs the edge to make him conference medalist.

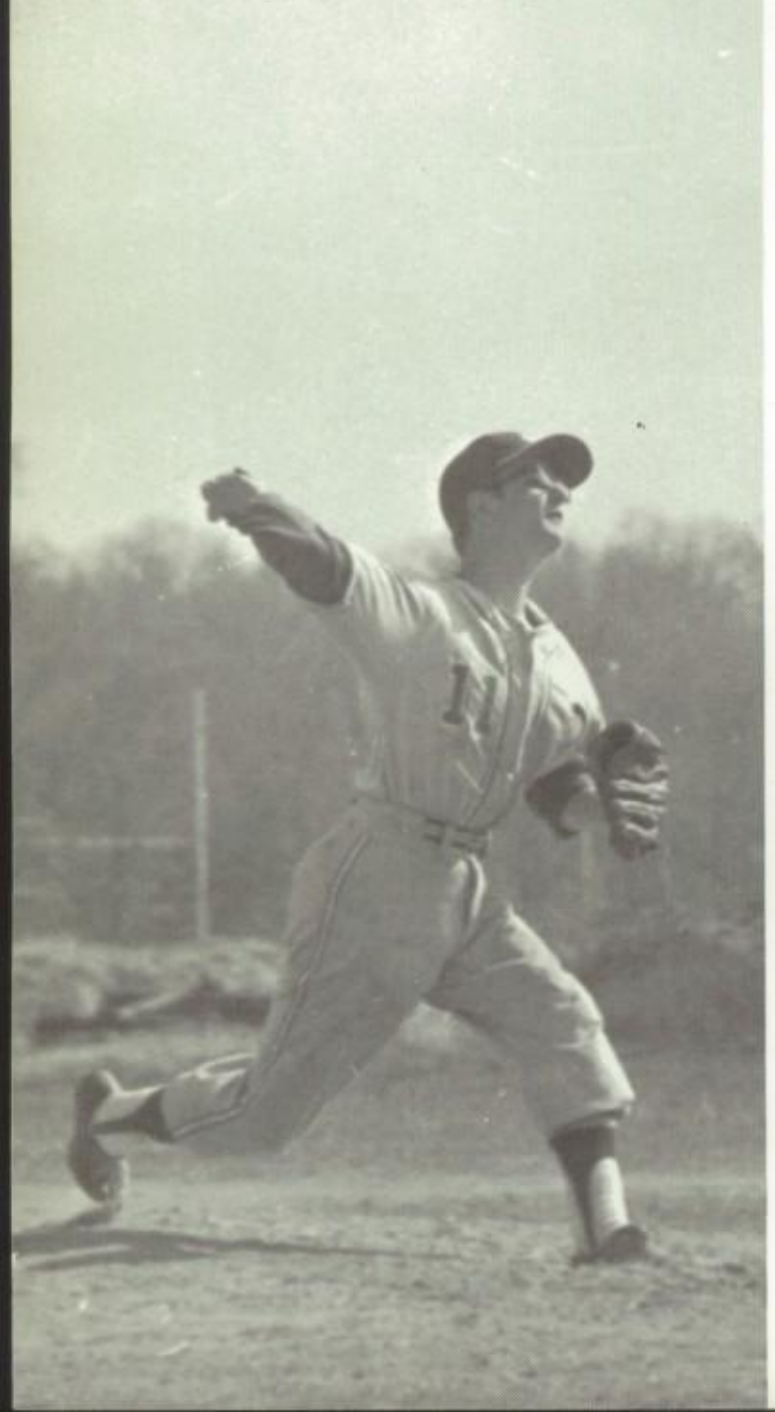
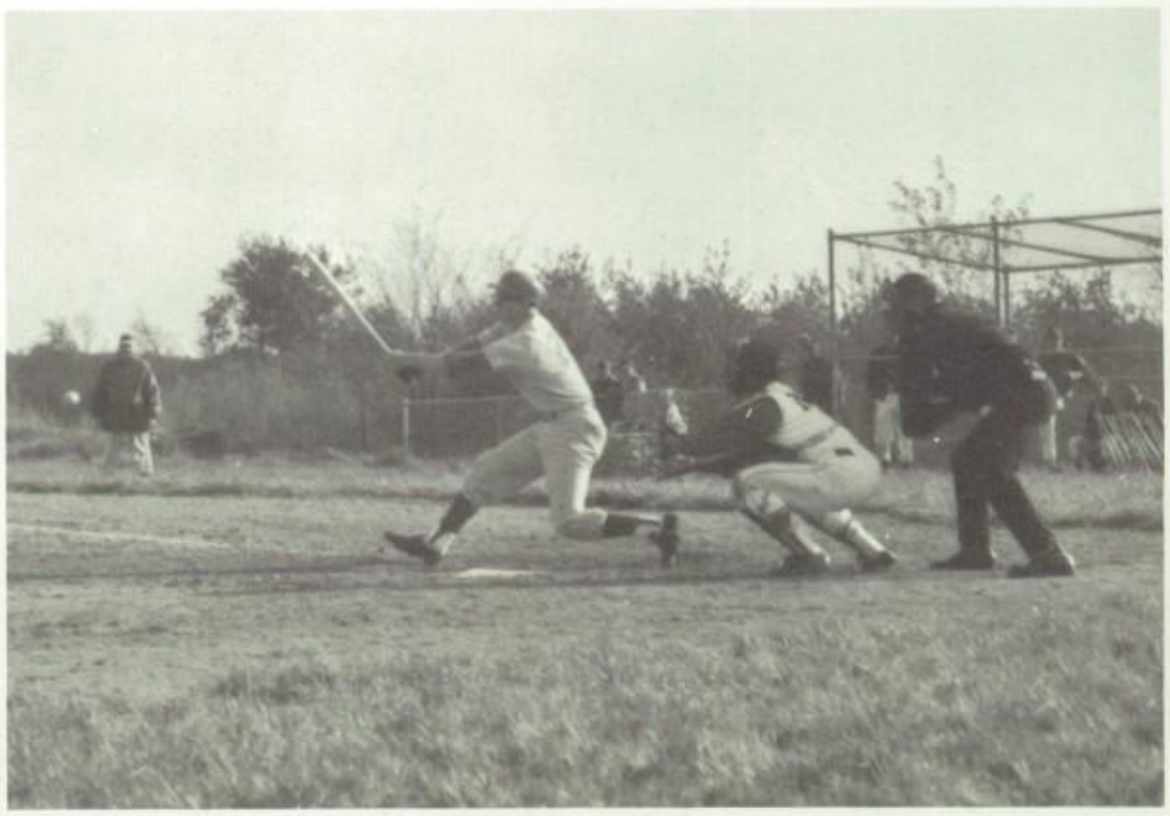
Tom Cory shows that concentration is a big factor in trying to make a putout, as a conference opponent sliding into third tries to steal a base.





All-Conference pitcher Greg Brenneman prepares to throw another strike towards homeplate.

Pulling through with another clutch hit is first-baseman and clean-up hitter Skip Kaucher.

Brenneman Picked As All- Conference Pitcher

Inexperienced with just three seniors, the baseball team directed by Coach Brooks ended the season with seven wins and eight losses. Spearheading the Trojan attack was hard-hitting Terry Bell. Another factor in helping win ball games was first sacker Skip Kaucher.

Leading the pitching staff was Greg Brenneman, an All-Conference choice. Sophomore Tom Cory also proved his ability as he pitched the only no-hitter of the baseballers' season against the Blue River Vikings. The most impressive game of the year was an 11 inning pitchers' duel, Greg Brenneman pitching against Gary Erskine of the highly rated Anderson Indians. A debatable call ended the game with Anderson on top, 1-0.

In charge of the defensive team was Neil "Johnny Bench" Thornhill, who was an honorable mention All-Conference pick. The fine fielding of centerfielder Duane Mathews and Senior Terry Bell's flawless play at second base also helped.

Winning the Joseph P. Shapiro award this year was Senior Terry Bell.

Swinging mightily, Terry Bell tries to bring in another run for a Trojan victory.

INDIVIDUALS

In this mass of spirit and learning
People work together.
Alone they are individuals
Striving for recognition.
Within this quickly changing pace of life at Chrysler High School
Several firsts created various alternations in the lives of CHS'ers.
More freedom in action and thought abounds in these halls.
Revision of the Dress Code,
The novelty of girls participating in competitive sports,
The definite advantage of grade cards
being issued every six weeks,
All combine to create
"A PLACE WITH A PURPOSE."

Mark,
The junior I admire
the most!! The school
wouldn't be the same without you. The days
seem to brighten everytime
I see you!
Always,
Ellen (Cis)

Craig Bailey Is First Sophomore President

The first Sophomore class officers elected by their classmates are Craig Bailey, president; Mark Rauch, vice-president; Ginny Byrket, treasurer; and Janet Conner, secretary.

Breaking traditions, the Class of 1972 united itself by electing the first sophomore class officers in the history of Chrysler High School. After a competitive campaign, they elected Craig Bailey to lead their class, with Mark Rauch, vice-president; Ginny Byrket, secretary; and Janet Conner, treasurer. Another first added to the list of sophomores was the ordering of their class rings last fall, and receiving them this May.

The 477 members of the sophomore class descended upon Chrysler, bewildered and confused. After a very short time, flexible scheduling, 13 modules a day, and independent study time were easier tor them to understand. This taken in stride, the sophomores worked willingly and creatively for theatrical productions, clubs, and sports. Sophomore girls played an important part in the organization of girl's inter-school competition and helped make up the girls' track, basketball and volleyball teams. Sophomore boys composed part of the B-Team squads and the basketball B-Team had a winning season.

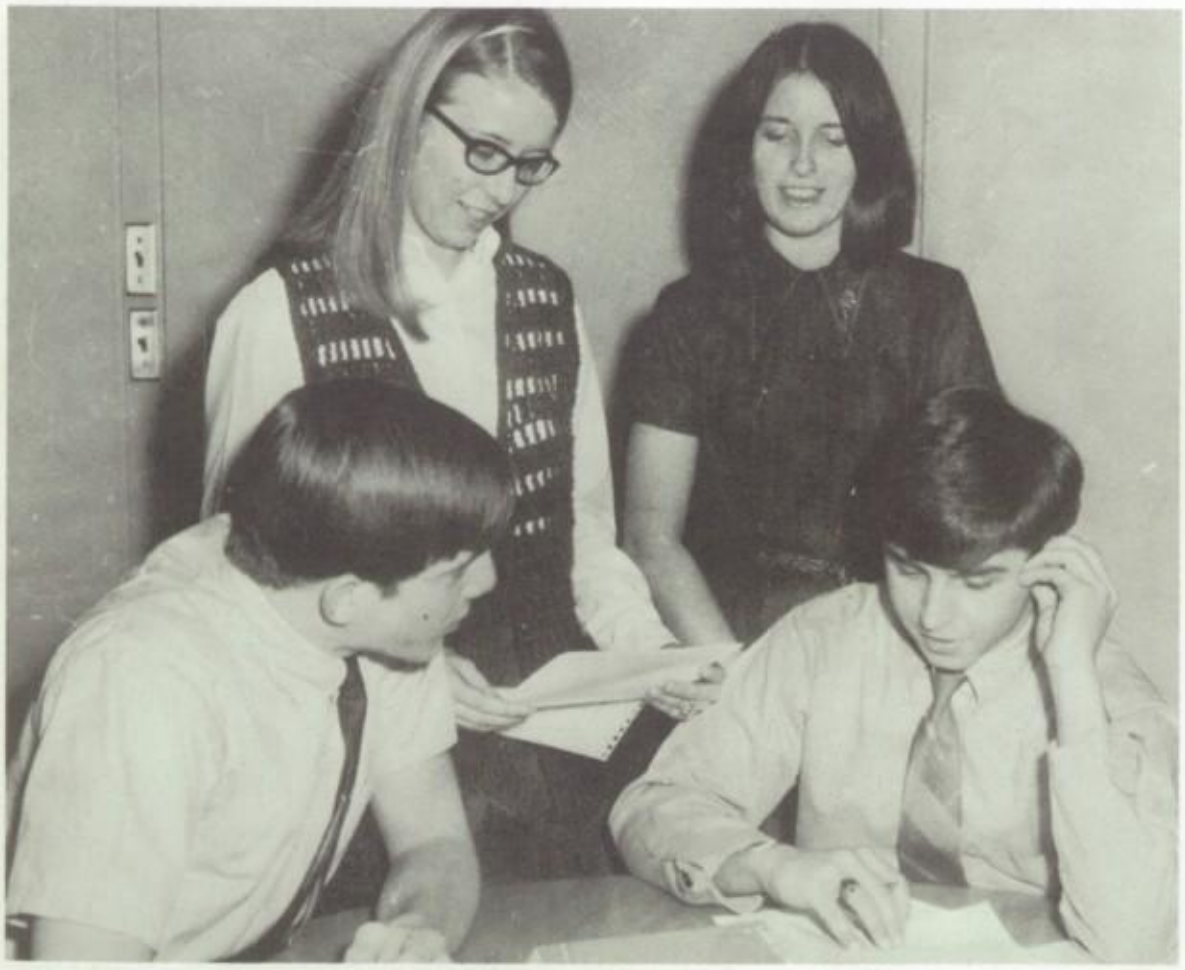
Jerry DeHart Presides Over 441 Juniors



Officers for the class of 1971 are Phil Barr, vice-president; Mary Ann Ozeretny, secretary; Nancy Leveridge, treasurer; and Jerry DeHart, president. For them, this year was especially memorable.

Well established during their second year at CHS, the Juniors seemed to be everywhere, because they were so involved in CHS activities. Starting the year for the Class of '71 was the election of officers. At the close of an exciting campaign, results shown were Jerry DeHart, president; Phil Barr, vice-president; Mary Ann Ozeretny, secretary; and Nancy Leveridge, treasurer. In the early fall, 37 Juniors received certificates of award for maintaining at least a 3.4 average for their first two years of high school.

Enthusiasm and class spirit on the part of Juniors were expressed through their open competition with other classes and participation in many clubs, various sports, speech meets, and plays.

Junior members of Student Council kept quite occupied as they helped plan for Hearts' Hop in February. Much more time was spent on the theme, entertainment, and decorations for the outstanding 1970 Junior Prom. As Seniors next year, they will lead the way in Homecoming and hold many memories.

Seniors Initiate Unique Vespers Service

Graduating as the first class of a new decade, seniors displayed their originality in various activities. Beginning in the fall, senior boys initiated the marathon touch football game which presented New Castle with an unofficial world title.

Conducted in a leisurely atmosphere, Senior Vespers were unique and inspiring. As they sang "Let There Be Peace On Earth," the seniors moved toward the tarpaulin covered floor in front of the rostrum. Challenging seniors was the renown speaker Bob Richardson. A folk group from Anderson College heightened the Vespers with singing.

Uniqueness was also present in the race for the class offices. Never before has a campaign been so competitive. Involvement reached a peak as seniors campaigned for their choice.

Honors Are Given To Distinguished Seniors

Hours of work are culminated in awards and honors given during the senior year. Trudi Boyd, CHS senior, was honored with a trip to Washington D.C.

Seniors brought honors to CHS by placing in the Merit Scholarship program.

Crests, as well as Honor Jackets, were presented to outstanding senior scholars.

Senior girls elected classmate Hsiu Zu Ho as DAR good citizen. Rotary and Optimist International also took their turns in recognizing outstanding seniors.

Seniors excelling in history attended Boys' and Girls' State Conventions.

As Seniors Begin Planning For Their Future

Hoarse and excited, President Margaret Stairs leads the Cheerblock in a sectional half-time show.

Anticipation and change marked the three years of high school for the Class of 1970. As sophomores, they first experienced flexible scheduling which placed more responsibility and freedom on them. "L'Amour Est Bleu" was an enchanting theme for the Junior Prom. The arrival of class rings initiated the feeling of the status and prestige created by the senior year.

As a class, they enjoyed being honored and recognizing their own. In the fall ten seniors were awarded honor jackets for their high scholastic average. Twenty other students received crests and certificates for maintaining a 3.4 index. The opening of the "Senior Commons" pointed out the confidence that the administration had placed in the class. Participation in Vespers, Honor Day, Senior Breakfast, May Reception, Baccalaureate, Commencement, and Night Club Party contributed to each senior's memory of his special year.

The seniors chose as their colors light blue and navy blue and as their flower, the rose. They reflected their attitude in the motto, "Some people see things that already are and ask why, we see things that never were and ask why not."

Recipients of National Merit honors are Jo McKee, finalist; Rick Hoover and Mike Burkhart, certificate winners. Not pictured is Mike Rains.

Administration Exhibits Expertise, Ability

This spring, a new Junior High began to rise west of the high school. The students were especially interested because the auditorium, swimming pool, and the fine arts facilities will be ready for use in 1972 and will be shared by both schools.

Education improves through good equipment and new ideas. According to Dr. Donald Turchan, superintendent, being able to adapt to change is a responsibility of the administration. As the students learn to accept challenges, they are able to achieve their personal idea of success. The School Board, Dr. Turchan, Principal William E. Lehr and the other administrators have combined efforts to create an atmosphere conducive to greater learning.

Faculty Involvement Highlights Diversities

Academically, the faculty has incorporated several innovations during the past year. Mrs. Beverly Hankenhoff was appointed the new Director of Practical Arts and Continuing Education and began to work toward expanded programs in industrial arts, home economics, business, and vocational education, assisted by the chairmen.

New equipment was welcomed by the music, home economics, and business departments. Other areas expanded their programs or tried new methods. Greater use of closed circuit TV was made in the math department. Large and small group instruction became common as CHS continued to strive for greater adaptability.

Discussing vocational education with Mrs. Hankenhoff are Mr. Arford, Mr. Renner, and Miss Eilar.

Efficient Staffs Understand, Aid CHS'ers

Every class has turned to the counselors for aid—the sophomores in planning their schedules and extra-curricular activities, the juniors and the seniors in preparing to graduate. The counselors helped students fill out college applications, apply for scholarships and survey job opportunities. The college fair in the fall and the vocational fair in the spring provided an opportunity for students to learn about various schools to further their education.

One major change occurred in the grading system. Students received grades each six weeks, as failing notices were abolished and students gained an extra chance for raising their grade average.

More teacher aids were hired this year and were a great help in various departments. The auxiliary staff which included the secretaries, cafeteria staff and custodians, all did their part to keep the school running smoothly and efficiently.

Students find counselors Mrs. Sinnock, Mr. Rinehart, and Miss Rentchler are always ready with information and friendly suggestions.

Greeting guests, keeping records, and typing letters are among the many duties of secretaries Mrs. Jeannette Sheddrick, Mrs. Edith Ingram, Mrs. Margaret Bow, Mrs. Ruth Connolly, Mrs. Margaret Williams, Mrs. Ida Good, and Mrs. Thelma Lawless.
